GROWTH ENGINE PICKS UP SPEED, GDP JUMPS TO 8.4%

Beats expectations in July-Sept quarter, surpasses pre-Covid levels

ANURADHA SHUKLA @New Delhi

INDIA's GDP grew 8.4% in the July-September 2021 quarter, on the back of improving private consumption and industrial activities, giving the government hope that growth will be in double digits in the current financial year.

The growth has surpassed pre-Covid levels. In value terms, GDP stood at ₹35,73,451 cr during July-September 2021, higher than the ₹35,61,530 crore recorded in the corresponding period in 2019-20, before Covid. The economy had contracted 7.4% in July-September quarter of 2020-21, data released by the National Statistical Office showed.

"Overall growth for the first half has been 13.7%. So, even a little more than 6% growth in the subsequent quarters should be able to deliver double-digit growth for this year," said Chief Economic Advisor K V Subramanian.

This confidence was boosted by the output of the eight core sectors, which grew 7.5% in October against a 0.5% contraction a year ago. Agriculture was steady despite an uneven monsoon, while other sectors showed signs of improvement.

Notably, private final consumption expenditure in the economy grew 8.6% growth at ₹19,48,346 crore against ₹17,93,863 crore. The government's final consumption expenditure also grew from ₹3,32,582 crore to ₹3,61,616 crore.

Experts, however, advise caution. "The disaggregated data is far from convincing, with considerable lags in private and government consumption expenditure being absorbed by a sharp rise in valuables relative to the pre-Covid level of Q2 FY2020," said Aditi Nayar, chief economist at ICRA.

The latest NielsenIQ's FMCG Snapshot for the third quarter of 2021 narrates a mixed bag consumption story. While the FMCG sector grew at 12.6% in the July-September quarter, the growth was urban led with rural India seeing a slowdown due to consumption decline.

RT-PCR must for all int'l travellers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

ON instructions from Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, the state will henceforth test international travellers from all countries arriving in Karnataka. At present, the RT-PCR test is mandatory for travellers from only those countries where the Omicron Covid variant has been found. The RT-PCR testing started at midnight on Tuesday, stated an official release from the Kempegowda International Airport.

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Tuesday said that around 2,500 international passengers arrive in the state every day and RT-PCR tests will be mandatory for all of them.

After the Covid Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) meeting, he said passengers who test negative will be home quarantined for seven days, while symptomatic and negative patients will have to undergo a repeat test at home on the fifth day. Asymptomatic passengers will be tested again on the seventh day. If positive, they will be immediately hospitalised. Bommai will write to Prime Minister Narendra Modi urging him to impose restrictions on travellers from specific countries, he said.

BUILDERS' DAY THEME 2021 - Role of Construction in Nation Building

Every year Builders' Association of India (BAI) celebrates Builders' Day based on a theme that matches with the nation's aspirations pertaining to the year.

Our Hon'ble Prime Minister has envisioned an economy for India that's as large as 5 trillion USD in five years from the present 2.75 trillion USD. In spite of the huge setback India suffered due to the economic slowdown because of the pandemic Covid19, the country can still aim at achieving the said target by 2024-25 as planned.

The construction sector which employs nearly 51 million people (the 2nd largest employer in the country) and contributes approximately 9%-12% of the nation's GDP was too was affected by the pandemic and the subsequent lock down just as much or more. However, everything cannot be as bleak for our domain since the analysts are expecting a sharp return to growth in 2021. It is expected that from a slump of nearly 14.9%, the construction sector will register a formidable growth of 11.6% in 2021.

When it comes to nation building the construction industry plays some key the roles such as
1. Infrastructure Development
2. Economic Development
3. Employment generation

Since construction industry provides the foundation for the development of a nation, let's play our role with utmost dedication, sincerity and hard work even though the task on hand is a huge one. Let's fulfil the task, by turning the challenge into an opportunity.

91-yr-old govt school faces demolition

Intach offers to restore structure; Real estate lobby eyeing 15,500 sqft prime property

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

IF authorities continue to neglect the Government Tamil Higher Primary School at Ashoknagar, which is one of the oldest buildings in Bengaluru, it could be done and dusted soon. Recently, a few students studying at the school were shifted to another nearby institution, leaving the premises empty.

Sources said the powerful real estate lobby would scuttle a proposal by the Indian National Trust for Art and Cultural Heritage (Intach), which has come forward to restore the building without any cost to the government. But there has been no progress from the government side.

A view of the Government Tamil Higher Primary School in Ashoknagar, Bengaluru, on Tuesday | EXPRESS

The school, close to Garuda Mall, was constructed in 1930 and is built in colonial style. It had a good number of students, but now it has only nine with one teacher. The school sits on a prime 15,500 sqft of land, whose value runs into crores.

TNIE published a report "Tech City has no electricity to give this government school" on November 27, highlighting how the school has been running without power for the last seven years.

Now, instead of making arrangements to restore power supply to the school, the Department of Public Instruction has shifted students to another school. Department Commissioner Dr R Vishal said they took the consent of parents before shifting the pupils.

Intach recently restored Fort High School in Chamarajpete, which was started in 1903. It had approached the Department of Primary and Higher education to take up the restoration of Ashoknagar school too. It had submitted a detailed project report with an estimation of Rs 27 lakh. The Rotary Club had come forward to get it done through CSR funds, but nothing moved from the government side, sources said.

Shanthinagar MLA NA Haris, under whose constituency the school falls, said the institution has fewer students. On it being a heritage building, he said, "Nobody approached me. If anyone comes to me, I will write to the state government and restore it."

Education Minister BC Nagesh said they are busy with MLC polls. "I will visit the school after December 10. We will restore the structure and hand it over to either run the school or to the education department,'' he said.

BASE rushes against time for PM visit

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi is expected to arrive in Bengaluru on December 6 when he will inaugurate the Dr B R Ambedkar School of Economics University (BASE University). The campus is being given a facelift and the BBMP has started asphalting the road by the campus. Only the first phase of work on the Rs 350 crore campus has been completed, and ministers are trying to push for completion of the interiors before the inauguration.

However, the university authorities are yet to get any confirmation on the PM's participation.

Sources said the focus of the interior works specially on the library and some of the administrative areas and are expected to be completed by Friday. The interiors of only five classrooms have been completed.

Budgetary allocation is awaited for eight lecture halls which are a combination of 60 and 100 seaters. Sprucing up of the campus is in progress and the plantation has been completed, said Bipin Bhadran, MD, Education Design International Bangalore.

Modi will inaugurate a 12-foot tall bronze statue of Dr Ambedkar, created by noted sculptor Ram Sutar, BASE vice-chancellor N R Bhanumurthy told TNIE.

Locals suspect poisoning after monkey deaths

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE death of two monkeys in Basaveshwara Nagar, a residential area, has got residents, animal rescuers and conservationists questioning the attitude of the Forest Department staffers who had claimed that the issue should be handled by the forest wing of the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike.

Animal rescuers and veterinarians also alleged that till Tuesday evening, the Forest Department had been dragging its feet in sending the viscera samples of the dead monkeys to the Institute of Animal Health and Veterinary Biologicals (IAHVB) for forensic analysis.

Residents of the area had found two monkeys lethargically moving around on Sunday and informed animal rescuers. The rescuers were able to save one of them and send it to an animal shelter in Kengeri for medical attention.

However, the veterinarians stated that the animal was brought dead. The second dead monkey was removed from the rear of an apartment complex in the locality only on Monday evening.

"It is not possible that only two could have died. There could be many others also, but the Forest Department is not checking or doing anything. They are simply passing the buck. So we are searching for more carcasses," said Bhagya, a local.

Rescuers and locals claim that it is a clear case of man-animal conflict. They also suspect that the animals may have been fed poisoned food by restaurants and hotel staffers in the vicinity.

Dr Nawaz Shariff, chief veterinarian, People For Animals, said the viscera samples are being sent for forensic analysis.

Clinally it looks to be a case of poisoning and since it is a medico-legal case, a registered government recognised lab must conduct the forensic analysis. He added that only one animal was brought to the hospital for treatment and its vital organs were failing, despite all medical emergency treatment.

Ravishankar S S, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Bengaluru Urban, said that normally they do not deal with such cases in urban areas, but this case is being examined in detail.

Chikkaballapur DC R Latha and SP G K Mithun Kumar visit the reconstructed road on the Nandi Hills on Tuesday

After a gap of 4 months, Nandi Hills to welcome tourists again today

Chikkaballapur: Nandi Hills will reopen for tourists from Wednesday, after a gap of four months. Speaking to TNIE on Tuesday, Chikkaballapur DC R Latha, who visited the popular tourist spot, said vsitors will be allowed on weekdays. On Saturdays and Sundays, however, only those who have bookings will be allowed after due verification. Meanwhile, the reconstruction of a damaged road at the 10th curve has been completed by the Public Works Department. The government had sanctioned a sum of Rs 80 lakh for the purpose. ENS

Home owners suffer without OC, water, power connections

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

A SIX-member team from the Karnataka Real Estate Regulatory Authority (K-RERA) on Tuesday visited the Krishna Shelton apartment complex at Bagalur Road Cross (off Bellary Main Road) to take stock of the ground reality there. This is in light of a complaint lodged by an association representing the residents, with the Authority in February 2021, over a host of amenities which were promised, but not readied.

A total of 260 residences of different dimensions make up the 12-storeyed apartments built by Krishna Enterprises (Housing and Infrastructure) Pvt Ltd, which was supposed to be fully ready by March 2015 (after a three-month grace period). However, six years post-deadline, a good number of houses are yet to be completed. Nearly 100 families reside here presently in the midst of everyday problems. The major issue is that no house owner has received an Occupancy Certificate (OC) yet.

Speaking on behalf of the aggrieved residents, Debasish Mohapatra, member of the Managing Committee of Krishna Shelton Welfare Association (KSWA), told TNIE: "Buyers have paid sums ranging between Rs 50 lakh and Rs 1.5 crore for houses here, but none has got an OC yet. We have all paid the pro-rata BESCOM and BWSSB charges, but have not got permanent water and electricity connections. Temporary power connection gets disrupted frequently. We depend on tankers to meet our water needs."

Krishna Shelton

Buyers have paid sums ranging between Rs 50 lakh and Rs 1.5 crore for houses here, but none has got an OC yet. We have all paid the pro-rata BESCOM and BWSSB charges, but have not got permanent water and electricity connections m

Debasish Mohapatra, KSWA member

Mohapatra recalled the nightmare of going without power supply for 28 days at one time, when the builder allegedly failed to pay temporary power bills. "We pooled in by paying Rs 14,000 per house to the builder for the bills and the temporary power connection was restored," he said. "Among other issues is the presence of a common wall between the Sewage Treatment Plant and Waste Treatment Plant, leakages through walls and the non-construction of a Child Play Area, cricket pitch and space for senior citizens as promised," Mohapatra said, adding, "We demand that a Forensic Audit be conducted for the project."

One of the owners, requesting anonymity, alleged that the builder has claimed he did not have money to complete the project and expected residents to pay more. "In reality, he has diverted into another project in Electronics City, which he is presently building," he charged. Meanwhile, the RERA registration for the project has expired and the builder is yet to renew it. Repeated attempts to reach builder R Anil Kumar were futile, with his number switched off. Asked about its proposed action, K-RERA Chairman H C Kishore Chandra, told TNIE: "Let our team submit their report first. We will take a decision based on that."

01st December : Did you know that you are more likely to consult your doctor in the six days after the Full Moon? Well, you are! But why should this be? One possibility is that we are more emotional and more likely to imagine that we are ill. Another is that the Moon has speeded up our bodily functions - and we really are ill!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)

Press on at work and in love, but realise that if you try to exert undue pressure on partners, it will probably rebound on you. It's much better to be quietly charming and sweetly persuasive. You might even want to experiment with a bit of gentle behind-the-scenes manipulation.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)

You still have to ensure that you are not being taken for granted, and ever so gently you can begin to raise your profile in an important relationship. Remember, though, that your attitudes are coloured by the way you would like things to be, rather than how they are.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)

One way to enhance your money-earning skills could be to link up with the latest technology. However, charitable giving is also moving up the agenda, and it's impossible to see whether you'll end up in the red or the black. What really matters, though, is that you feel you've done your bit for a better world.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)

Developments that are due to come to light in a totally unexpected way could completely transform your appreciation of one special person. You may be pushed into reconsidering a whole series of emotional commitments. The one thing you can do without, though, is yet more personal complications.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)

If you still feel under personal pressure, it's because you're stuck in a time warp that probably relates to what happened a month ago, or even longer. You must realise that the present moment is an ideal one in which to put all regrets behind you for good.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)

Adverse or challenging planetary aspects do serve a useful purpose, and are forcing you to be a little more decisive. You should realise that while your most cherished goal may apparently be out of reach for now, there are many 'second-bests' that are within your grasp.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)

It might be strange to hear it, but someone's opposition to your plans might actually have done you a service. During the past few weeks you have begun to find your feet. Most important now is your recognition that emotional relationships pervade every aspect of human activity, including work.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)

You should be concentrating on creating a better atmosphere at work, and encouraging more pleasant conditions all round. If your job involves people rather than things, you are poised to do very well indeed. Show colleagues that you are concerned with their interests and all should be well.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)

You still appear to be going through a slightly disturbed emotional situation, and one focus of attention seems to be financial. Quite simply, one way to feel better is to go out and buy yourself a few treats! What's more, you can pay for someone else's dreams to come true.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)

Your stars are passing through an exciting phase. The effect may be to shoot you back to your emotional past just when you thought you had been propelled into the future! Don't take anything for granted, and look at wonderful promises with a large pinch of salt.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)

Don't expect to understand everything that's said and done today. In fact, if you think you do know what's going on, there's something badly wrong. Use this valuable time to forge ahead on all pursuits requiring wonderful, deep and colourful imagination.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)

This is a splendid moment for a spot of extravagance. It doesn't matter whether you're spending a tiny amount of cash, or a large pile. What's important is that you generate a feeling of well-being and prosperity, and spread as much good-will around as you can.

DHARWAD CLUSTER UNDER CENTRE'S WATCH

State asked to speed up genome sequencing, revise international travel guidelines, increase testing and vaccination

CHETANA BELAGERE
@ Bengaluru

THE Covid-19 cluster at the SDM College in Dharwad is among two in the country which are being monitored by the Union Health Ministry. Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan at a public health preparedness review meeting on Monday, not only listed out the precautionary measures and preparedness that states need to take, but has asked Karnataka's genome sequencing committee to speed up the sequencing of the Dharwad samples to understand which variant was in circulation there. The other cluster being monitored by the Centre is in Maharashtra.

"There have been seven new Covid-19 clusters in Karnataka over the last few weeks — two each in Bengaluru and Mysuru and one each in Dharwad, Hassan and Tumakuru. The rate at which the numbers spread in the Dharwad cluster is surprising and also worrying. We have been told to closely observe symptoms and also speed up the genome sequencing of these groups," said a senior health officer.

According to officials, states were asked to revise international travel guidelines and also not to let their guard down. While most of the students from the clusters in Karnataka have had a history travel from Kerala or are from the medical fraternity, Karnataka has been asked to increase surveillance and seek compulsory RT-PCR reports from anyone entering the state from Kerala. Also, there has to be effective monitoring of hotspots (clusters) and sending all positive samples for genome sequencing to designated INSACOG labs, the state was informed.

"We have been asked to increase testing. We have decided to test all international travellers on the first day of arrival and again on the fifth day. Also a team of eight doctors, headed by Dr V Ravi of the state's Genome Sequencing Committee, has been formed to reduce the genome sequencing turnaround time and ensure quicker results, especially the clusters," the officer explained.

Meanwhile, a release from the Press Information Bureau said that the state has been asked to ensure regular monitoring of home isolation cases, augment health infrastructure by ensuring availability of beds, ICUs and oxygen facilities. The state has also been asked to increase vaccination coverage. The Omicron variant doesn't escape RT-PCR and RAT tests and hence, states were advised to ramp up testing for prompt and early identification of any cases. Mass gatherings of any kind should be avoided, the states were told.

Don't pay heed to lockdown rumours: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AMID the increasing Covid-19 clusters, especially in educational institutions in the state, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday reiterated that there is no proposal before the government to impose a lockdown. He also appealed to people not to pay heed to rumours.

"There is no question of imposing a lockdown now. Normal life should go on and we appeal to everyone to strictly follow Covid norms" the CM told media persons in Bengaluru on Tuesday. Institutions and organisations which organise programmes where there are big crowds should ensure that people adhere to Covid norms, he added.

The government is keeping a close watch on the clusters and those who tested positive, as well as the primary contacts, will again be tested after seven days.

More cluster outbreaks in colleges

ENS @Bengaluru

IN yet another instance of cluster outbreaks in educational institutions, 15 girl students studying in two nursing colleges in Tumakuru, six students in Chamarajanagar Institute of Medical Sciences and five nursing students of Nanjappa Nursing College in Shivamogga have tested positive for the virus. Also, two students of a dental college in Belagavi have tested positive for Covid-19.

The Tumakuru students have been isolated in their respective college hostels and their samples have been sent for genome sequencing.

Eight students of Siddaganga Nursing College and seven from Varadaraja College, who have taken admission for the first year General Nursing and Midwifery (GNM) diploma programme, arrived in Tumakuru on November 21. The RT-PCR tests were conducted on 90 students of Varadaraja College and 150 from Siddaganga college on November 22 and 23. The test results, which came on Monday evening, revealed that 15 of them had contracted the virus. Following the outbreak, the district administration has instructed both colleges to switch to online classes.

A health worker vaccinates a man at the famous Bull Temple in Bengaluru on Tuesday | ASHISHKRISHNA H P

In the six nursing colleges in Tumakuru City Corporation limits, there are over 300 students, with most of them hailing from Kerala, Maharashtra and other states.

In Chamarajanagar, the infected students have been shifted to the designated Covid hospital and are stable. Hospital authorities said they have tested 500 primary contacts of the infected students. College dean Dr Sajeev Reddy had tested positive last week and is in home isolation.

Shivamogga District Health Officer Dr Rajesh Suragihalli told TNIE that a total of 54 students returned from Kerala a week back. "The college took precautionary measures and isolated them immediately. As per the guidelines, they were tested after seven days. Of them, five students have tested positive. None of the students had any symptoms," he said.

The two dental college students in Belagavi are from Bihar and are studying in the final year at a private institute in Belagavi. They were staying at the college hostel and had undergone Covid test which returned positive for the infection.

TAC SUGGESTION

'Treatment at private hospitals should be free'

KIA stated that passengers can pre-register and pay for RT-PCR tests to reduce waiting time. Rapid RT-PCR test results are received within an hour of providing a sample, whereas the standard RT-PCR tests take 5-6 hours, it added.

TAC suggested that those who have not received their second dose should not be allowed at malls, cinemas and auditoriums. Also, the government should make Covid treatment at private hospitals free of cost, the committee advised. The government, however, is yet to take a decision.

Preparations, including the availability of beds, oxygen beds, deployment of doctors and personnel and supply of medicines, were discussed at the meeting.

The issue of increasing the vaccine coverage came up. Around 41 lakh people are slated to get the second dose and priority will be given to reach out to them, he said.

"The Central government is getting samples from all states. Every international passenger's contact is being tracked and tested," he added.

At the meeting, ways to deal with Omicron, how to control it, and preparations needed at hospitals and medical colleges were discussed. The use of technology, such as Quarantine App and telemedicine, was considered. A panel of 10 experts has been set up to formulate separate guidelines for treatment. Attempts are on to prevent viral transmission at an early stage, he added.

On the bodies of two Covid victims found after 16 months at the mortuary of an ESI Hospital, Sudhakar said such negligence should not have occurred and it is regrettable.

Oppn to target govt on Bitcoin, rain damage

With session set to start on Dec 10, Cong , JDS seek RTI replies to get clarity on several issues, including bribe scam

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

WITH the legislature session 12 days away, opposition parties -- Congress and JDS -- are busy gathering information through RTI queries and contacting their sources in the government to get details of three big challenges before the government – Bitcoin scam, 40 percent bribe allegation and rain damage.

In the Bitcoin scam, where the names of several BJP leaders have allegedly surfaced, the two opposition parties are seeking clarity as it has multiple dimensions of hacking and other details. Former minister Priyank Kharge and other Congress leaders had indicated that they would corner the government on these issues in the Assembly and Council.

Charges of corruption in the Bengaluru Development Authority will be the other issue that opposition parties are planning to trouble the government with. As civil contractors alleged that they had to pay 40 per cent bribes to get the projects sanctioned, a delegation of Congress leaders had met Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot and alleged constitutional failure.

The responsibility is now with the two opposition parties to prove that the bribe-for-project scam exists in the government and the contractors have to pay 5-7 per cent speed money to process the bills in PWD, RDPR, Bengaluru Development, health and other departments.

The two parties are expected to hold respective legislative party meetings a day or two ahead of the session, sources from both parties said.

Sources said that JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy, who had raised several issues backed by solid proof in the last session, has been rather quiet, but would still chip in during the discussion in the upcoming session.

On the rain damage, the government has admitted that several thousands of hectares of land have been submerged and lives of several people lost in the recent incessant rain. The opposition wants to prove that the government came up short in delivering succour to the affected people.

With the Assembly elections 17 months away, both the opposition parties are expected to work hard to put the government on the mat during the session.

ZP, TP polls hinge on delimitation report, says RDPR Minister

RAMKRISHNA BADSESHI
@ Kalaburagi

RDPR Minister K S Eshwarappa on Tuesday informed that the State Government will be ready to hold elections to the zilla and taluk panchayats in February, only if the delimitation panel submits its report a month earlier.

"If the delimitation committee, under the chairmanship of retired IAS officer Lakshminarayan, submits its recommendations to the government in the first week of January, the government is ready to hold elections to zilla and taluk panchayats in February," reiterated Eshwarappa.

"As per available information, preparations of the recommendations for delimitation of ZP/TP constituencies by the committee are in their final stages. In all probability, the panel will submit its report in the first week of January. The government is not in favour of postponing the elections," he added.

Meanwhile, referring to the upcoming Council polls, Eshwarappa said, "BJP has fielded 20 candidates and is confident of winning at least 15-16 seats, as the BJP-supported Gram Panchayat members are more than the Congress'. Apart from this, BJP MLAs and MPs who are also voters in this election are more in number, compared to the Congress, which has not fielded a senior MLC like SR Patil this time, as there are differences of opinion among its top leaders in the state. This will certainly affect the Congress in the elections."

The veteran BJP leader also alleged that Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah deceived the JDS by joining Congress. "If the Congress asks him to step down as Opposition Leader, he will quit this party too," he charged.

Eshwarappa, who is touring Karnataka for organising a state-level conference of backward classes leaders said, "The convention will be held on December 12 at Palace Grounds in Bengaluru, where about 3,500 delegates will participate. The party will choose 10 people from each of the 310 mandals of 224 Assembly constituencies. In the convention, the delegates will be briefed about welfare programmes launched by the Union and State Governments. Later, three members from each of the mandals, including two men and one woman, will be trained, and a booklet on welfare measures launched by the government will be handed to them. They will be instructed to spread awareness among people of the backward classes and communities about the activities initiated by the government for their welfare." It is a sort of preparation for the ZP, TP and General Elections, Eshwarappa said.

If the delimitation committee, under the chairmanship of retired IAS officer Lakshminarayan, submits its recommendations to the government in the first week of January, the government is ready to hold elections to zilla and taluk panchayats in February

KS Eshwarappa, RDPR Minister

The CM question

Meanwhile, replying to a question on whether he has any ambitions of becoming the CM, as he had predicted that Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani will become CM in future, Eshwarppa said that every politician nurses the ambition of becoming chief minister and he was not an exception. However, what he said about Nirani a few days ago was that the latter is someone who has grown from the grassroot level and established many industries in the state and is eligible to become chief minister. After all, it is the BJP high command which decides on who the chief minister will be. As of now, there is no question of a new chief minister and the General Elections will be fought in the state under the leadership of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommaias the high command has already clarified about the same, he said.

BJP sees chance in Tumakuru's caste equations

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Tumakuru

AS the countdown begins for the December 10 Council polls, indications are that the H D Deve Gowda factor will play a role in the Tumakuru seat, turning it into a triangular contest. This seems to have thrown open an opportunity for the BJP. As Gowda lost the Tumakuru seat in the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, despite being the Congress-JDS alliance candidate, owing to a 'conspiracy' by former MLA and rebel congress leader K N Rajanna, who openly claimed his hand in it, the Vokkaligas and Dalits are seemingly up in arms to avenge it.

It is evident from the fact that the JDS fielded former KAS officer Anil Kumar R, who hails from the ST Nayaka community, against Rajanna's son R Rajendra, also from the same community. Meanwhile, the BJP has fielded a Kunchatiga Vokkaliga, N Lokesh alias Lokesh Gowda, who hails from Sakkare Gollahalli of Doddaballapur taluk in Bengaluru Rural district. He is the lone Vokkaliga candidate in the fray. "We are not going to be split by sub-sects within the caste, and hence, will support Lokesh Gowda. Anyway, we have to defeat Rajanna's son and our choice will be BJP this time," remarked Narase Gowda, a supporter of former Turuvekere MLA M T Krishnappa.

Last time, when incumbent MLC BEML Kantharaju, a Vokkaliga, was the candidate, the JDS was a united front. This time around, however, Kantharaju and Gubbi MLA S R Srinivas have been supporting the Congress candidate. So, some leaders within the JDS are supporting the BJP candidate since he too is a Vokkaliga.

Meanwhile, Dalits have also raised the issue of Rajanna allegedly badmouthing Dr G Parameshwara over the latter allegedly enjoying the zero traffic privilege when he was the deputy CM. Only if the AHINDA electorate, under Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah, put up a united front can the Congress give a fight. Otherwise, the division between the two ST Nayaka candidates may give an edge to the BJP, political watchers feel.

We're not looking for JDS support in Mysuru seat, says Somashekar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

THE BJP, which lost the last Legislative Council election by a narrow margin, has stepped up its campaign to win first-preference votes in the Mysuru-Chamrajanagar seat in the polls scheduled to be held on December 10.

The saffron party is in no mood to seek the support of JDS in the Mysuru-Chamrajanagar seat for the second-preference votes.

District in-charge minister ST Somashekar said the party will definitely win the seat as it is working as a team and reaching out to all panchayat members.

On Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah requesting panchayat members not to cast the second-preference votes, Somashekar said candidates from all the three parties are seeking the first-preference votes.

"Panchayat members are mature and over 70 per cent are youth who can decide who to elect to the Council," he added.

On December 5, former chief minister B S Yediyurappa will campaign for BJP candidate R Raghu in both districts, he said and added that the party has formed 15 teams to campaign in both districts that have toured Periyapatna, HD Kote and Hunsur taluks.

The district in-charge minister said Yediyurappa has appealed to JDS senior leader HD Kumaraswamy to support BJP candidates in places where the latter's party is not contesting.

Party worker hurt as factions spar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hassan

DAYS ahead of the Legislative Council elections, two local factions of the BJP engaged in a clash, leaving a party worker grievously injured. The fight broke out in front of District Minister Gopalaiah, who was chairing a meeting of party leaders in Arsikere on Tuesday.

Ranganath, a supporter of BJP leader Mariswamy, was attacked by supporters of NR Santosh, who was the personal assistant to former chief minister B S Yediyurappa, when the former took local leaders to task for accommodating Santosh on the dais.

Ranganath also alleged that Santosh is neglecting sincere workers in the party. Enraged by the allegations and the treatment meted out to their leader, supporters of Santosh assaulted Ranganath, who was rushed to HIMS Hospital.

Earlier, BJP leaders, including district president H K Suresh, former district president Navile Annappa tried to pacify the irate workers, but to no avail. It may be noted that the party unit in Arsikere is divided between three factions, led by N R Santosh, Mariswamy and GVT Basavaraj.

BSY, son still hold sway, Vijayendra grooms next-gen

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

ELECTIONEERING has once again pitchforked former Karnataka Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa and son B Y Vijayendra, BJP state vice-president, into the limelight, and highlighted their role as party lodestars.

The 78-year-old Lingayat strongman, who voluntarily sought support of the JDS in the December 10 Council polls in places where the regional party has not fielded its candidates, has sent a message that he can reach out to leaders across the political spectrum. In response, though, former chief minister H D Kumaraswamy clarified that while he had spoken well about Yediyurappa considering his seniority, it doesn't mean the JDS will support the BJP.

Interestingly, BJP national general secretary and Karnataka in-charge Arun Singh, who had travelled to Old Mysuru to strengthen the party in the region, had a spat with Kumaraswamy after he termed the JDS a "sinking boat".

Yediyurappa, meanwhile, has let it be known that after the Council elections, he will take up his pending solo state tour, and visit each district to organise the party.

Meanwhile, Vijayendra has asserted that he is not a "sanyasi" and will contest the 2023 assembly polls as he has been organising the party as its vice-president, indicating that he cannot be ruled out as Yediyurappa's successor.

"Vijayendra has also been grooming a set of second-rung leaders as his loyalists, among whom are Mysuru MLC candidate Raghu Koutilya and Mandya's KR Pet Manju," said a BJP leader.

Yediyurappa, who took the liberty of seeking JDS' support, was also reportedly passive about defending Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and his government over the bitcoin issue, raked up by the opposition Congress.

Except for stating that the guilty will be punished, as Prime Minister Narendra Modi knew about the scam, Yediyurappa did not volunteer to defend any party leaders.

Yediyurappa also set off speculation when he called on former chief minister Jagadish Shettar, after the latter's recent New Delhi visit.

While this has given ammunition to talk in political circles, what transpired between the two leaders remains a mystery.

BJP will be in power for 25 years: BSY

DAVANAGERE: Former chief minister BS Yediyurappa on Monday said that the Congress, which believes in money, muscle power and caste-based politics, has now been rejected by the public, while the BJP, with its belief in inclusive politics, will continue to be in power for the next 25 years -- both at the Centre and in the State. Addressing GP members coming under the Shivamogga Council seat, he said, "I have also pledged to tour the entire state and make sure that the BJP comes to power in 2023 with a majority of 140 seats."

Gowda meets PM with demand for IIT in Hassan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORMER Prime Minister H D Deve Gowda reiterated his demand for setting up an Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) in Hassan, his home district, during his meeting with Prime Minister Narendra Modi in New Delhi on Tuesday.

After the meeting, Gowda tweeted, "I had a cordial meeting with Prime Minister Shri@ narendramodi today at his office in the Parliament. I thank him for his time and warmth."

Coming out of the meeting, Gowda told media persons that he had sought time from the PM to discuss establishing an IIT in Hassan as Union Minister Dharmendra Pradhan had earlier said it is not possible to consider his request. The Prime Minister assured him that a discussion will be held with Union Minister Pralhad Joshi, Gowda said. "Had a great meeting with our former PM Shri @H_D_Devegowda Ji in Parliament today," Modi too tweeted about the meeting.

Council elections

The JDS patriarch said that he will campaign for the party candidates contesting the Legislative Council elections in Mandya and Tumakuru and former CM HD Kumaraswamy will campaign in all constituencies.

Responding to a question, Gowda said they had no funds to field candidates in all seats. Kumaraswamy will decide on supporting BJP candidates in some seats, he said and added that there was no discussion on continuing the alliance during the next elections. Senior Congress leader Mallikarjun Kharge wants to have an understanding with JDS, but other leaders in his party do not seem to be that keen, he added.

Nirani seeks survey on KGF industrial complex

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

INDUSTRIES Minister Murugesh Nirani has directed officials to conduct a survey of over 3,000 acres of unused land belonging to Bharat Gold Mines Limited (BGML) at Kolar Gold Fields (KGF), and submit a report at the earliest.

The State Government plans to set up an Industrial Township in KGF, located around 100 km from Bengaluru.

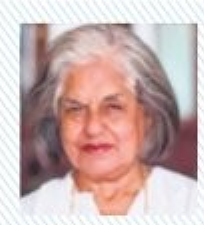
Sources said that during the meeting on Tuesday, the minister informed the officials that the survey needs to be completed early, since the project will help spur industrial growth in Kolar, Bengaluru and the surrounding areas, while also providing employment opportunities to thousands of people. On August 11, Nirani had submitted a memorandum to Union Minister of Parliamentary Affairs, Coal and Mines Pralhad Joshi, requesting him to permit the State Government to use land at KGF to develop an Industrial Township.

A gang of five men, who had allegedly barged into a house and robbed a woman at knifepoint, has been arrested by the Kumaraswamy Layout police. Venkatesh (20), Sunil (21), Manja (26), Shivaraja (28) and Jagadish Reddy (20) had barged into the house of Chaitra, a resident of Kumaraswamy Layout, police said

Semi-naked man at HC online hearing

Man bathing was visible for around 20 minutes; Court passes orders to trace him and issue notice

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru



I confirm that a semi naked man was visible on the screen for a full 20 minutes despite my objection. I am making an official complaint for contempt of court and sexual harassment. It's extremely disturbing in the middle of an argument in court

INDIRA JAISING @IJAISING

IN a strange incident, the Karnataka High Court on Tuesday passed an order to retrieve the electronic data of a video conference and identify a person to issue a notice after a senior advocate complained that the person was visible semi-naked for about 20 minutes when the court was hearing a batch of public interest petitions related to sex CD scandal allegedly involving former minister Ramesh Jarkiholi.

Senior advocate Indira Jaising, representing the victim, told the division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum that a semi-naked man was found bathing during the video conference.

"I was exposed to the semi-naked man for 20 minutes. It is done deliberately. It should never happen again and it is disturbing and offensive. His conduct amounts to gross contempt of court. I request the court to take action under the Contempt of Court Act," she appealed. Jaising said she will send the digital evidence to the court to take appropriate action against the person who joined the video conference with his name as 'Sridhar Bhat SDMC Ujire' on Zoom.

A lawyer, who was on video conference hearing, also confirmed that the semi-naked person left the video conference after the issue was brought to the notice of the court.

The court passed the order to retrieve the data and find out the person for issuing notice to him as more than 80 people had logged in during hearing.

Meanwhile, the chief of the Special Investigation Team (SIT) Soumendu Mukherjee submitted to the court that the final report proposed to be submitted by the investigating agency into the sex CD scandal is acceptable. The court asked the SIT to file an application seeking permission of the court if it wants to file the final report before the trial court.

"I confirm that a semi-naked man was visible on the screen for a full 20 minutes despite my objection. I am making an official complaint for contempt of court and sexual harassment. It's extremely disturbing in the middle of an argument in court," Jaising tweeted.

Student jumps from college building, critical

BENGALURU: A 19-year-old BA student tried to end her life by jumping from the second floor of a college in Jeevan Bheema Nagar (JB Nagar) police station limits on Tuesday morning. Her condition is said to be critical.

The student is a resident of TC Palya and is studying in a private college in JB Nagar. Police said that she lived with her elder sister and the duo reportedly quarrelled over an issue on Monday night.

"She went to the college on Tuesday morning as usual. While students studying in the school located on the college premises had assembled for prayer at 9.10 pm, the girl went to the second floor of the college building. As she shouted that she was ending her life, a few staff on the ground tried to convince her not to jump. However, she jumped and sustained serious injuries. The staff rushed her to a nearby hospital and then to another hospital, where she is under treatment. The doctors treating her said her condition is critical," the police said.

The JB Nagar police have registered a case. ENS

Takes tough stand amid 5,000 teaching, non-teaching staff shying from taking jab

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'Puram

ADOPTING a tough stance against people shying away from Covid vaccination, the state government has said it will not bear the treatment expenses of unvaccinated adults who contract coronavirus infection. The move comes amid reluctance on the part of around 5,000 teaching and non-teaching staff to get themselves vaccinated even a month after schools reopened.

Chairing a high-level meeting here on Tuesday to assess the Covid situation in the state, Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan said teachers and government employees, who have not taken the vaccine citing allergy or other medical complications, should produce a certificate in this regard from a government doctor.

Those teachers and government employees who cannot produce such a certificate should report to work after getting themselves inoculated at the earliest or produce an RT-PCR negative test result to higher authorities every week at their own expense.

The chief minister stressed on the need to step up alert against the latest Omicron variant of coronavirus. The travel history of people arriving from high-risk countries should be thoroughly scrutinised and the Covid protocol should be strictly followed in their case, he directed.

Pinarayi asked local bodies to identify people who are yet to receive the second dose of Covid vaccine. The health department has been directed to launch a special vaccination drive from December 1 to 15 and district collectors have been asked to make the necessary arrangements.

The government will allow differently-abled students to attend offline classes. However, there will be no change in the current working hours in schools. In view of the emerging Covid scenario, the high-level meeting decided not to give any more relaxations on the existing restrictions for the time being.

Ponzi scheme: ED attaches ₹32.37 cr assets in Andhra, TS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has attached 52 immovable properties in Andhra Pradesh and Telangana worth Rs 32.37 crore in the Agri Gold Ponzi scheme fraud case under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA), 2002.

The ED had initiated a money laundering investigation based on multiple FIRs lodged in AP, Telangana and Karnataka.

"Agri Gold Group, led by Avva Venkata Rama Rao, allegedly ran fraudulent collective investment schemes in the guise of real estate business, for which more than 130 companies were floated. Agri Gold Group collected deposits from general public with a promise of providing developed plots/farm lands or withdrawal at a high rate of return on maturity/pre-term. Thousands of commission agents were engaged to lure people with various schemes for hefty commission and managed to collect Rs 6,380 crore from 32,02,628 investor accounts. In the end, the gullible investors neither got plots nor could recover their deposits," the ED stated in an official release on Tuesday.

On December 24 last year, the ED had attached assets worth Rs 4,109.31 crore. "The total attachment value in the case now stands at Rs 4,141.68 crore," the agency added.

Elderly woman in dock in 'cooked-up' POCSO case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kollam

IN what could be the nastiest manifestation of neighbourhood bickering, a 73-year-old woman was trapped in a sexual abuse complaint filed by the minor son of her neighbour allegedly for settling some past scores. The woman had to spend 45 days in jail as the local police invoked charges under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (Pocso) Act on the complaint by the 14-year-old boy.

The woman, who is out on bail now, has lodged a complaint with the chief minister seeking a comprehensive probe into the case, including the incidents that led to framing of a false case against a scheduled caste woman.

"Around three months ago, I reported illicit brewing of arrack at my neighour's farmhouse to the excise officials. They conducted a raid on the farmhouse as well. After a few days, a woman from the neighbouring house filed a false Pocso case against me complaining that I had sexually abused her 14-year old son," Sreemathi, a native of Kulathupuzha, said.

"I was taken into custody on the day when I just returned home after vaccination. I was taken to the police station saying that they will leave me after completing a few formalities. Later on the same day, I was produced in court and was remanded in custody," said Sreemathi.

The Kulathupuzha police said they can't comment on the case as it is sub judice. Punalur MLA P S Supal said, "Our local leaders say it is a fabricated case. I will visit the woman soon and hear her version."

Blood donation camps for Sai Baba birth anniversary

The Sri Sathya Sai Seva Organisations and the Young Messengers (youth wing) organised 288 blood donation camps across India on the occasion of Sathya Sai Baba's 96th birthday. Between 21 to 28 November, 'Liquid Love' had set up camps in schools, bus terminuses and railway stations in collaboration with blood banks and hospitals. The campaign, held in 26 States, aimed to help Covid-19 patients and others with chronic diseases. The youth wing also worked on social media campaigns to alleviate fears about donating blood. Professionals monitored the camps. At least 10,418 blood units were collected, said a statement. More information on the camps can be found on @SAIMESSENGERS and @SSSSOINDIA. ENS

The National Law School of India University in Bengaluru | PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA

NLSIU to launch 3-year LLB course from next year

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA
@Bengaluru

AFTER the success of its five-year BA-LLB course, the National Law School of India University is set to start a three-year LLB course, a full-time residential programme that will admit 60 students in the academic year 2022-23. The course will begin in July 2022 and students will have to clear an entrance examination to qualify.

This comes as a relief to those students who want to pursue a professional course in law at the top law institute in the country after their graduation, but were constrained because of the institute offering only the five-year course.

The Bar council has approved the three-year programme and the schedule for admission for the three-year LLB (hons) course will be out by next week, committee members launching the programme told TNIE in an exclusive interview.

"Many students don't think of doing law post Class 12, but subsequently find themselves interested in pursuing a such a course. But national law universities set up in the country in the last 20 odd years do not offer an avenue for them with a three-year programme," said Prof Aparna, a member of the committee, adding that these are the students NLSIU wants to cater to – the best and brightest from different disciplines.

In addition to the 24 core courses mandated by the Bar Council of India (BCI), the regulatory body of the institute, the three-year course will also have electives and interdisciplinary core courses. The pedagogical approach of participatory learning is a replica of the one that is implemented in the five-year BA LLB programme. But unlike the five-year course, here students won't learn different disciples in themselves, but they will be taught as perspectives on how one studies the law, said Aparna.

"You take analytical, reasoning skill set from law and can apply that to other fields. And likewise, you can take from history techniques about historiography and apply them to the study of law. Or for instance use tools of political science and apply them to the study of law. Law and economics is a thriving field," she added.

Just as the general culture of NLSUI, this course too is a full-time residential programme.

NLSUI vice-chancellor Sudhir Krishnaswamy said that the option of day scholar will also be open, adding that infrastructure development has already begun. "The accommodation will be done in multiple ways, some will be augmentation, some will be new buildings," he said.

The 25 per cent reservation for Karnataka students will be applicable for this programme too, he added.

Cong forms pact with Goa Forward Party

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

THE Congress unit of Goa on Tuesday said that MLAs of Goa Forward Party (GFP), Vijai Sardesai and Vinod Palyekar, and independent MLA Prasad Gaonkar met senior Congress leader Rahul Gandhi and extended their full support to the party to uproot the "corrupt BJP government of Goa" in the next elections.

Of the 40 Assembly seats in Goa, Congress is strong in 14-15 segments. It had been sensing that it would put up a weak show in seven to eight constituencies, where GFP is strong.

Tuesday's tweet was put out by Goa Congress and Karnataka Congress MLA Dinesh Gundu Rao, MLC Prakash Rathod, party leaders Mansoor Ali Khan and Sunil Hanamnavar and their supporters.

Sardesai is a former Youth Congress leader and had served the party as the general secretary before breaking away over personal differences with the state party leaders.

On the reason for the alliance, Congress leaders said their surveys had indicated that such a pre-poll would consolidate secular votes.

Sardesai told The New Indian Express, "We have not discussed the arithmetic. We have agreed to a pre-poll alliance which will help in the post-poll scenario. The alliance will help Congress get a majority. Congress and Goa Forward Party together will form a government, which will mean that the secular votes are not divided."

Dinesh Gundu Rao, who is in charge of Goa, said, "This alliance will help overcome the corrupt and inept BJP government. This alliance will help Congress come to power in Goa.''

In the 2017 state Assembly polls, Congress had secured 14 seats, while GFP had three. But after the results, GFP alleged that Congress had not kept its word on the pre-poll alliance and had gone with BJP.

This time, with elections just over two months away, Congress can breathe easy with the pre-poll alliance in its pocket, sources said.

Cops raid central prison, seize ganja

Bengaluru: To crack down on illegal activities in the Bengaluru Central Prison, sleuths of the Central Crime Branch (CCB) and prison officials conducted a search operation on Tuesday morning and seized a few packets of marijuana (ganja) and 'chillums'. The police searched all barracks where convicts and undertrial prisoners are lodged. "In some barracks, ganja packets and chillums were seized. The inmates of such barracks have been warned," police said. ENS

19 cases solved with arrest of 6

Bengaluru: Six youths involved in 19 burglary and vehicle theft cases have been arrested by the JJ Nagar police. Mohammed Abraaz, Syed Hayath, Mohammed Zain, Mubarak Pasha, Varun Kumar and Shahbaaz were arrested in connection with a burglary reported last Thursday, police said adding that their questioning led the police to crack 19 vehicle theft cases. Two-wheelers worth Rs 10.5 lakh have been recovered from the accused. ENS

LONG-TERM MEASURES NEEDED TO KEEP VEGGIE PRICES STABLE

Reports from across the country indicate there has been an unnatural spike in the prices of vegetables, disrupting the carefully planned kitchen budgets of millions. An all-India survey on the retail price of tomatoes by LocalCircles between November 18 and 28 showed that most households in big tier-1 cities forked out around ₹100 for a kilo, while the average payout in tier-2 and tier-3 cities was ₹70 per kg. Even the prices of more sturdy staple vegetables—potato and onions—are up about 20%. Unseasonal rains all over the country have ruined vegetable crops and disrupted market operations, creating a shortage. High diesel prices too have added to the woes of consumers as they bear the increased transport costs.

The crash and spurt in prices of these essential veggies has unfortunately become an acceptable cycle. For instance, last year saw a high in onion prices in September and a huge spurt again was witnessed this February on account of unseasonal rains. Then followed a sudden spurt in production by mid-March triggering a 30-40% fall in prices. In Lasalgaon, India's onion hub, farmers were in tears as prices crashed from ₹4,000 a quintal to a low of ₹2,500.

The government needs to do more than its usual last-minute measures like banning onion exports as soon as prices soar. One of the reasons prices of potatoes are relatively stable compared to other vegetables is because they use 90% of the warehousing cold storage space and do not rot easily. Similar cold chain infrastructure for other important veggies, with central support, will give better returns to farmers and provide stable prices to consumers. The more perishable onions and tomatoes can be processed and stored, as is done in many advanced countries. The Union government had announced 'Operation Green TOP' (Tomatoes-Onions-Potatoes) in 2018 to build value chains in line with the Amul milk model, where surplus is bought from the farmers and released in time to stabilise prices. Progress has been however tardy. It is therefore time for long-term solutions so that both the consumer and the farmer are protected.

NEW INDIA CAN'T BE NUTRITION DEFICIENT

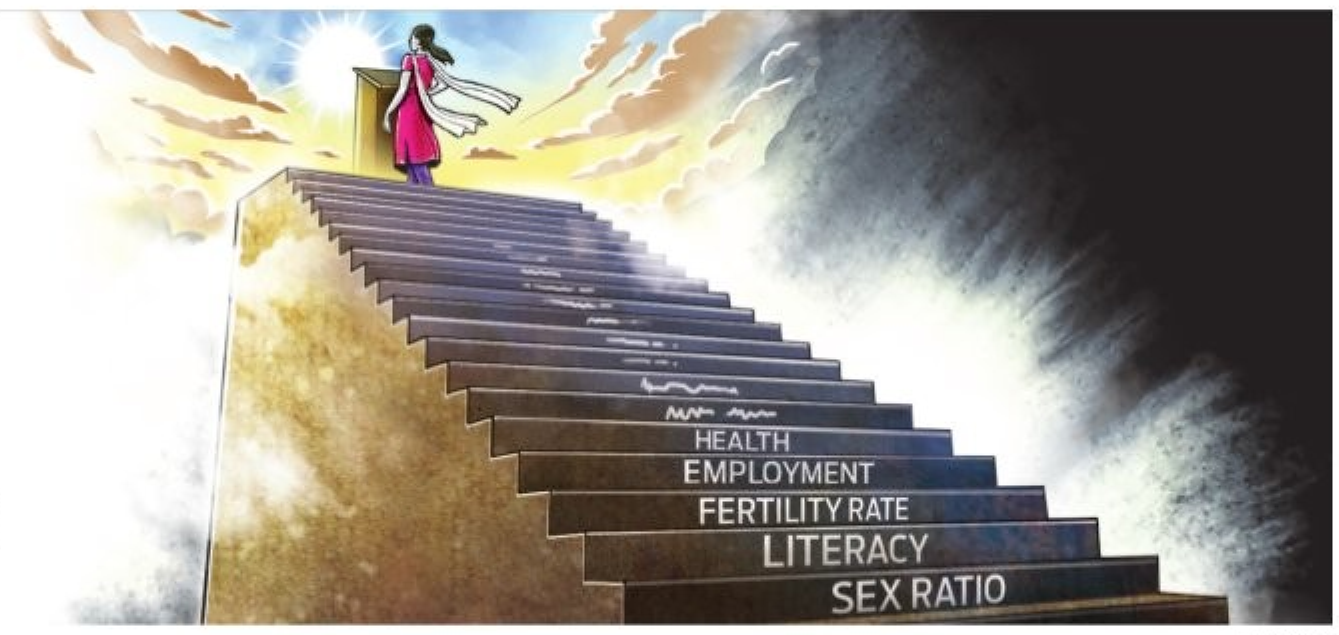
Over 67% of children below five years in India are anaemic. That translates to about seven in every 10 children suffering from iron deficiency. The outcome of the phase-2 of the National Family Health Survey (NFHS) reveals the dangerous demographic pattern for a country that wants to be a global economic superpower. Let's take a look at the pregnant women in the 15–49 age category and the number stands at 52.2%. For non-pregnant women, the number is higher at 57.2%. Talking in terms of the economic burden of anaemia, the loss it inflicts is probably as much as the health budget of the country.

Back in the 1970s, India had launched the National Nutritional Anaemia Prophylaxis Programme (NNAPP) to fight the deficiency. In 2019, it rolled out the Anaemia Mukt Bharat campaign. Two years hence and after Covid-19, the numbers have not just ballooned but are even scary in some states. Assam's anaemia scenario for children in the 6–59 month bracket stands at a whopping 68.4% in NFHS-5, up by 32% since NFHS-4. Chhattisgarh's numbers have jumped to 67.2%, an increase of 25.6%. In Odisha, where malnutrition has remained acute, the anaemia figures are equally worrying—from 44.6% in 2015–16, it has grown to 64.2%. Anaemia is a major contributor to disability among children as well as the cause of mortality among newborns and mothers. Further the NFHS-5 shows stunting, wasting and under-weight parameters have not shown much improvement over the last survey.

All this begs for re-strategising of nutritional planning for the country as well as individual states where the situation remains grim. Change in dietary plans, use of sustainable local solutions and further strengthening of surveillance and monitoring systems would be the need of the hour. There should be regional planning for nutritional programmes too. It is important to find out whether the pandemic has snapped nutrition access to children and women who are largely dependent on supplementary nutrition schemes and rework the planning. The dream of a New India cannot be built on a large population of children and mothers deprived of nutritional sufficiency.

The survey points to an improvement in the status of Indian women in certain critical areas that will need to be protected and consolidated

PRESERVING THE GAINS REVEALED BY THE NFHS-5



AMIT BANDRE

TULSI JAYAKUMAR

Professor, Economics, & Chairperson, Family Managed Business at Bhavan's SPJIMR

The recently released National Family Health Survey (NFHS) 2019–21 points to some interesting and positive developments in India's demography and health trends, especially pertaining to women. It also indicates associated policy issues and point to the direction where interventions would be required in order to maintain the positive momentum.

The most heartening trend seen in NFHS-5 is a reverse skew in favour of women for the first time. Thus, the number of females per 1,000 males (called the sex ratio of the total population) has increased from 991 in 2015–16 in the NFHS-4 to 1,020 in NFHS-5. The survey points to the number of females per 1,000 males to be even better in rural areas at 1,037, which though heartening is a little surprising, since the urban sex ratio continues to be less than 1,000 (at 985). The number of girls born per 1,000 boys in the last five years (sex ratio at birth) has similarly improved at the overall level, from 919 in NFHS-4 to 929 in NFHS-5, with rural areas outperforming their urban counterparts on this statistic as well.

Women in India seem to have become more literate compared to a decade ago. The survey points to a literacy rate amongst women at 71.5%, which is greater than the national female literacy rate at 65.46% in the 2011 census. More importantly, literacy among rural women has improved marginally compared to even the national female literacy level in 2011. Women's education has improved, with the proportion of women with 10 years or more of schooling increasing from 35.7% in 2015–16 to 41% in 2019–21. Women also seem to have acquired digital savviness, especially in the urban areas where 51.8% of women surveyed have used the internet. The proportion of married women in the 15–49 age group currently using family planning methods has increased significantly from 53.5% in 2015–16 to 66.7% in 2019–21. This trend is matched by a decline in the number of children per woman (total fertility rate) to 2 in 2019–21, which is below the internationally accepted replacement level fertility rate of 2.1. This fertility rate, which was 2.2 in 2015–16, indicates that in just four-five years, women's social preferences regarding contraception and reproduction seem to have changed significantly. This development has the potential to nullify India's perceived advantage of a demographic dividend going forward and would need to be closely monitored.

While these results are only from a sample and will need to be corroborated by the decennial census, the trends point to two urgent areas of attention for policymakers. One, academics and policymakers will need to understand the reasons for such changes (especially gains) in a relatively short time span of five years. For instance, can the improvement in the sex ratio at birth be attributed to government policies that have banned sex determination tests? Is it due to the awareness drive that possibly Non-Governmental Organisations (NGOs) and other agencies have undertaken? And have such campaigns been more successful in the rural areas? Two, it is clear that policymakers will need to divert their attention to ensure that the hard-earned gains in the domain of female well-being are not lost and that women can contribute as productive assets in the economy.

It is no secret that the female labour force participation rate (women of the age 15 years and above working or actively looking for a job) in India is one of the lowest in the world and has been declining. This rate, which was 20.3% in 2019 (compared to 30.5% in Bangladesh and 33.7% in Sri Lanka) as per the World Bank estimates, had fallen to 16.1% in the July-September quarter of 2020 due to the pandemic. The reasons for this decline in labour force participation has to do with the low-skilled jobs on farms and factories or in the domestic sector (as maids) that most Indian women are engaged in; these sectors have been among the most vulnerable to the pandemic.

Policymakers will need to pay attention to improving labour market outcomes for women. This would involve several measures. Women will need to be provided access to relevant education and training programmes and skill development, which go beyond just tailoring and knitting skills. The decline in the fertility rate and increased adoption of contraception, including sterilisation, points to the need to rethink facilities for childcare and provisions such as maternity and paternity leave, not just for the skilled and educated women but also for the informal sector. There would also be a need to provide transport facilities that are safe and accessible, besides just job opportunities for women desirous of working. Women entrepreneurs need to be nurtured.

The survey also points to certain disturbing trends regarding women's general health even as maternal health indicators have significantly improved. Thus, the prevalence of anaemia among women in the 15–49 age group has increased and that of high blood sugar and hypertension among the 15+ age group is also high, pointing to the need for affordable health facilities for women going forward. Policy measures will need to start looking at women's general health, besides just maternal health in the future.

The NFHS-5 points to an improvement in the status of Indian women in certain critical areas, which will need to be protected and consolidated.

THE WAY TOWARDS NET-ZERO EMISSIONS

CHANDRAJIT BANERJEE

Director General, Confederation of Indian Industry

COP26 concluded in the second week of November on a high note to drive global climate actions and 195 countries set a target to keep average global temperature change below 2°C and as close as possible to 1.5°C. Before the summit, the planet was on course for a dangerous 2.7°C of global warming. Based on new announcements made during the summit, experts estimate we are now on a path to between 1.8°C and 2.4°C of warming.

Important headway was made in many areas and a few examples of the outcomes of the conference are: The Adaptation Fund reached $356 million, which is almost three times its mobilisation target for 2022; the LDCF, which supports climate change adaptation in the world's least developed countries, also received a record $413 million in new contributions; with respect to International Carbon Markets, after five years of negotiations, the world's governments settled on the rules for the global carbon market under the Paris Agreement's Article 6; countries were encouraged to align the Nationally Determined Contribution (NDC) targets' dates around five-year cycles, which will hopefully help spur ambition and action in the near term, facilitate better understanding of global progress, ensure action over the same time period and keep pace with the Paris Agreement's five-year cycle.

At COP26, India modified its NDCs for 2030 and Prime Minister Narendra Modi committed that the country will achieve net-zero emissions by 2070. This was one of the five major commitments or panchamrit he made on behalf of India to mitigate climate change. We welcome this and are extremely happy that a date for net zero has been set. Worth noting are the powerful and ambitious targets for the near term (by 2030) that were adopted—India will bring its non-fossil energy capacity to 500 GW, carbon intensity down to 45%, fulfil 50% of its energy requirement through renewable energy and reduce 1 billion tonnes of carbon emissions from the total projected emissions. With successful implementation of many initiatives already underway in India, the fourth largest renewable energy hub is well on track to achieve the aspirational targets.

The message from the PM is clear—that the goals of climate action demand universal strategies from all nations and India's growth path must increasingly include sustainability as a concomitant objective. In this context, Indian industry is making significant progress in the climate mitigation mission and views the PM's commitment as an opportunity to inculcate sustainability actions across its operations, goods and services. Sixty one Indian businesses have made commitments towards net-zero carbon and are developing strategies to reach this goal. These include businesses from across sectors. A number of Indian companies in partnership with CII have also committed to achieving no net loss on biodiversity, addressing air pollution and working towards a circular economy, with some even committing to removal of commodity-driven deforestation in supply chains.

Under the PM's visionary strategies for renewable energy, hydrogen mission, reduction of carbon emissions, etc., India has attained great results in solar and wind energy, railways (committed to net zero by 2030) and LED lights among others.

On a positive note, India has taken the lead and is at the forefront of action against climate change. In fact, it has retained its spot in the top 10 best performing countries for the third year in a row in the Global Climate Change Performance Index (CCPI), released by Germanwatch on the sidelines of COP26. With India on the road to meeting its NDCs, the stretch targets set by the PM can be achieved if we all pull together as one.

Achieving net zero involves technology pathways as well as financial flows of investments towards the construction of the associated physical infrastructure. Based on the primary analysis to meet net zero by 2070, India will require a cumulative investment of $10.1 trillion in power sector transformation in scaling up generation from renewable energy, associated integration distribution, transmission infrastructure and setting up green hydrogen production. Finance was extensively discussed throughout at COP26 and there was consensus on the need to continue increasing support to developing countries.

COP26 fell short on the expectations with respect to technology transfer and finance. The pledge to mobilise $100 billion a year has not been realised, which means climate action will be delayed further till 2025.

While Indian industry is making rapid progress in the arena of climate mitigation, we look forward to a partnership with the government in terms of mechanisms to reward or incentivise early action. This will help motivate companies/organisations to accelerate efforts on climate actions as well as bring more into the fray. The converse would be to impose some kind of penalties on inaction, which would be a definite deterrent. This would emphasise the government's intent on achieving the commitments made at COP26 and accord seriousness to the magnitude of the current situation. Government cooperation is also sought in identifying modalities for establishing carbon markets, enabling climate finance and support in adopting new technologies. For India to deploy climate technologies at a significant scale, there is a need to put in place a facilitative global technology transfer regime and ensure that incremental and associated costs of these techs are met from multilateral climate change funds.

In the upcoming budget, we look forward to high-level announcements and commitments to be made with regards to energy transition, transport and adaptation measures just like in the last budget where the finance minister had announced the Green Hydrogen mission.

Mamata in a hurry

It is not sagacious of Mamata Banerjee to skip the meeting of opposition parties convened by the Congress (Mindgames behind Mamata fracture in opposition unity, Nov 30). She wants to portray herself as the main contender against the BJP but the effort to establish pan-India credibility might not fructify in a hurry.

Haribandhu Panigrahi, Tarbha

Knowing the electorate

Buoyed by the grand success in the Bengal Assembly elections, Mamata Banerjee is trying to make the TMC an all-India party. She is leaving no stone unturned and is taking disgruntled leaders from other parties into the Trinamool. But at the same time, she has to understand the needs and aspirations of people belonging to other states. Also, she must avoid frequent tussles with the Central government.

Ram Saran Singh, Bengaluru

Sabotaging development

This is with reference to India 1989–2014 and after—a paradigm shift (Nov 30). The rights conferred by our Constitution have been transcended by different agitating forums in the name of democracy. This has hindered development designed to help the general public. Of late, the motto of the opposition parties is to sabotage all efforts at development by the government of the day. Even the liberals and intelligentsia are complicit in it.

AM Chakravarty, Hyderabad

Migrant issue unresolved

The efforts of Indian leaders and the military during the Bangladesh Liberation War are commendable (1971 war against Pak: The making of Indian victory, Nov 29). Even after being successful, it is often said that India lost the peace at the Simla Conference. Also, the crisis in East Pakistan led to disturbances in the Northeast. The migrant issue remains unresolved. So, as we celebrate 50 years of this victory, it is important to throw light on the contemporary matters that await a peaceful resolution.

Measures against Omicron

This is with reference to Omicron threat & emergency responses (Nov 30). The most important first step towards controlling the spread of the new variant of SARS-CoV-2 is to screen travellers entering India from at-risk nations for the mutant virus at airports and seaports. The second is to ensure stringent adherence to Covid-appropriate protocol.

Dr George Jacob, Kochi

Remember those who died

While appreciating the Centre for withdrawing the farm laws, those who are not supporters of either the BJP or the opposition would feel convinced if a minute of silence was observed to mark the death of nearly 700 farmers. They are also Indian citizens and lost their lives during the agitations.

Centre seeks farmer names for MSP panel

Samyukta Kisan Morcha to nominate five at Dec 4 meeting, reiterates demand for withdrawal of criminal cases

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE Central government has sought five names from farmer unions for a panel on Minimum Support Price (MSP).

After a meeting of the 32 Punjab farmers unions at Singhu border on Tuesday, Samyukta Kisan Morcha member Harinder Singh Lakhowal said, "The Centre has asked us to give five names of farmer leaders who would be part of the committee to be formed by the government on MSP. We have not decided the names. Samyukta Kisan Morcha will decide the names in its meeting on December 4. We also demand that this committee should function in a time-bound manner."

Lakhowal added that they hope the cases lodged against farmers will be taken back. "Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar has indicated that cases registered against farmers in Haryana can be withdrawn. Tomorrow, a delegation of farmers from Haryana is likely to meet Khattar. The Punjab government has announced that cases registered against farmers during the agitation will be withdrawn."

The farmer leader said that they are requesting the Centre to instruct the Railways, Chandigarh administration and Delhi Police to withdraw cases against the farmers.

"The Centre should give compensation to the families of the 700-odd farmers who died during the agitation, besides a financial package and government job for one of the kin in each family,'' he said.

Sources said that some of the farmers camping at Singhu and Tikri borders for more than a year have started preparations to go back home. They will go back once SKM says it is time. Until then, they will not move. "We have packed our belongings in our trucks but will remain at the protest until we get final orders from the farmer leaders. We have been here since December 2 last year,'' said a farmer.

"All pending demands of farmers and the Centre's stand will be discussed elaborately in the December 4 meeting of the SKM. We will chalk out the strategy of the movement in the meeting and announcement them accordingly," said another farmer leader.

BILL TO DECIDE JUDGES' PENSION TABLED

Union Minister for Law and Justice Kiren Rijiju introduced an amendment bill in Lok Sabha which seeks to clarify the conditions of pension payments to retired judges amid din. Lok Sabha approved the introduction of the Bill without discussion with pandemonium prevailing. The High Court and Supreme Court Judges (salaries and conditions of service) Amendment Bill, 2021, seeks to clarify the conditions in which the pension has to be paid. "The legislative intent behind insertion of sections 17B and 16B respectively in the aforesaid Acts was to provide benefit of additional quantum of pension to a retired Judge from the first day of the month in which he completes the age specified and not from the first day of his entering the age specified," the bill states.

HERITAGE CIRCUITS TO BOOST TOURISM

The tourism ministry is creating heritage circuits based on themes for development of tourism infrastructure and facilities to boost tourism in the country. Union tourism minister G Kishan Reddy informed the Lok Sabha on Monday. The ministry had allocated nearly 80 per cent of the total sanctioned amount, which is `757.65 crore, for 10 circuits planned in Punjab, Telangana, Rajasthan, Puducherry, Gujarat, Assam, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh, and Uttarakhand, the minister said.

Fading culture of Parliament debates

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

ONE clause of the National Commission for Backward Classes Bill, 2017, was repealed in Parliament after over seven hours of discussion — 4.32 hours in Lok Sabha and 3.35 hours in Rajya Sabha.

Two caluses of the State Banks (Repeal & Amendment) Bill, 2017, were repealed after 2.31 hours of discussion by the members in Lok Sabha and 2.42 hours in Rajya Sabha.

Going by recent trend, the tradition seems to have changed. On Monday, the Farm Laws Repeal Bill, 2021, was passed in just eight minutes — three in Lok Sabha and five in Rajya Sabha.

Opposition MPs are citing this as an example to say that the government led by BJP doesn't listen to them. "The farm laws were brought by PM Narendra Modi without discussion and have been repealed by Modi without discussion," said Asaduddin Owaisi of AIMIM. Saying that he is in favour of debates and discussions, the MP from Hyderabad added, "If elected MPs are left unheard, what choice do people have apart from protesting?"

The ruling party shrugs off such allegations. BJP's Rajya Sabha MP and former Deputy CM of Bihar, Sushil Kumar Modi said since the Opposition were united in their demand for withdrawal of the farm laws, discussion would have amounted to a waste of time. "The objective of the Opposition should not be limited to creating a ruckus," said Modi.

Kota Neelima, director of Institute of Perception Studies in New Delhi, felt the sanctity of Parliament lies in debate. "Reluctance of the government to debate exposes the government's insecurity. A perception is getting stronger that the government does not want to debate because it cannot defend itself." She added that voters will not be wrong in having a perception that their government does not want to be questioned about its decisions.

Debates and discussions in Parliament are not a matter of the distant past. Available references show that 131 clauses of the Repealing and Amendment (Second) Bill, 2017, and 104 clauses of the Repealing an Amendment ACT, 2017, were repealed after 1.07 hours of discussion in Lok Sabha and 38 minutes in Rajya Sabha.

And, 295 acts of the same Repealing and Amendment (Fourth) Bill, 2015, were repealed after close to 70 minutes of discussion in the two Houses, while 758 appropriation acts of the Appropriation Acts (Repeal) Bill, 2015, were binned after 1.19 hours of discussion.

Ministry avoids clear reply to MSP question

KUMAR VIKRAM @New Delhi

THE government has avoided a clear reply on legal backing to minimum support price (MSP) for agricultural crops. In a written reply to the question, 'Whether the government has any plan to introduce legal backing to MSP to agricultural products' in Lok Sabha on Tuesday, the Ministry of Agriculture did not state anything clearly. The ministry also said it doesn't have data on farmer deaths during the agitations.

The question was asked by Lok Sabha MP K Muraleedharan. The ministry's reply was about the existing provision of MSP for crops.

"Government of India announces Minimum Support Prices (MSP) for 22 major agricultural commodities of Fair Average Quality (FAQ) each year in both the crop seasons after taking into account the recommendations of the Commission for Agricultural Costs and Prices (CACP)," the reply said.

It also said that the government extends price support for paddy and wheat through the Food Corporation of India (FCI) and state agencies. "Under this policy, whatever food grains are offered by farmers within the stipulated period and conforming to the specifications prescribed by the government are purchased at MSP by the state government agencies including FCI for Central Pool," it said.

The reply also said that oilseeds, pulses and copra of Fair Average Quality (FAQ) are procured from registered farmers under the Price Support Scheme of the Pradhan Mantri Annadata Aay SanraksHan Abhiyan (PM-AASHA), as per prescribed guidelines at MSP in consultation with the concerned state government.

Farmers unions demand a law to guarantee MSP. On Sunday, Bharatiya Kisan Union leader Rakesh Tikait said that the government must bring a legislation to guarantee this to protect the interests of farmers.

Pak envoy called over Kartarpur photoshoot

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi/Chandigarh

INDIA on Tuesday summoned the Charge d'Affaires at the Pakistan High Commission and conveyed deep concern over a Pakistani model's photoshoot at Gurdwara Darbar Sahib in Kartarpur, describing it as a "desecration" of the sanctity of the holy place.

Calling it a "reprehensible" incident, India said it expects Pakistan to "sincerely investigate" the matter and take action against those involved.

Model Sauleha's "bareheaded" photoshoot for a Pakistani clothing brand at Gurdwara Darbar Sahib set social media abuzz on Monday. Many people accused her of hurting the sentiments of the Sikh community. The model later deleted her photos from her Instagram page and posted an apology.

"Pakistani Charge d'Affaires was summoned to convey our deep concern at the incident of desecration of the sanctity of Gurudwara Darbar Sahib in Kartarpur by a Pakistani model and a clothing brand," External Affairs Ministry spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said.

The spokesperson said it was conveyed to the Pakistani diplomat that this "reprehensible" incident has hurt the sentiments of the Sikh community in India and worldwide. "Such continued incidents of desecration and disrespect of places of religious worship of the minority communities in Pakistan highlight the lack of respect for the faith of these communities," he said.

Gurdwara Darbar Sahib is located in Pakistan's Narowal district, about four kilometres from the Dera Baba Nanak shrine in Punjab's Gurdaspur. It is the final resting place of Sikh faith's founder Guru Nanak Dev, who had spent the last 18 years of his life in Kartarpur.

In Punjab, Shiromani Akali Dal demanded action against those who misbehaved in religious places of the minorities in Pakistan.

Omicron doesn't escape ususal tests, ministry tells states

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

CONCERNED over new Covid-19 variant Omicron, the Centre on Tuesday advised the states for effective surveillance of international passengers, with focus on testing and monitoring of hotspots.

Balram Bhargava, secretary (Health Research) and DG of ICMR said that the Omicron variant doesn't escape RT-PCR and Rapid Antigen Test. States were advised to ramp up testing for prompt and early identification.

Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan chaired a high-level meeting with states/UTs to review Covid-19 response measures and preparedness amid reports of the Omicron variant in various countries.

Reiterating that the revised guidelines and advisories of the health ministry in view of the new variant have been shared with the states, Bhushan advised the states to not let their guards down, and keep a strict vigil on international passengers coming to the country through airports, ports and land border crossings.

As per the revised guidelines, testing of international travellers from "at risk" countries has to be done on Day 1 and Day 8. International passengers from these countries are advised to wait at the airports till the report of the RT-PCR test has come and not book connecting flights beforehand.

The ministry also said that all positive samples should be sent for genome sequencing to INSACOG Labs (mapped with states) and states should undertake contact tracing of positive individuals and follow up for at least 14 days.

Suspended MPs hold protest, paralyse houses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

A day after 12 Opposition Rajya Sabha members were suspended for unruly behaviour during the monsoon session, they decided to sit in protest near the Gandhi statue in Parliament as Upper House Chairman Venkaiah Naidu rejected demands to revoke their punishment.

While the Centre made the review of Naidu's order conditional on the MPs apologising for their conduct, the Opposition brushed it away. "Apology for what? For raising the voice of people in the House? Never," Congress leader Rahul Gandhi said.

Floor leaders of the Opposition met twice to discuss various options. It was agreed that since boycotting the proceedings would give the Centre a free hand to pass legislation without discussion, Opposition MPs should stay in the House and continue to press the Centre. The Trinamool Congress did not attend the Opposition meetings.

Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha Mallikarjun Kharge raised the matter in the House and also wrote to Naidu calling his decision "undemocratic and unwarranted. While the Opposition walked out of the Rajya Sabha, Trinamool members walked out separately. However, all 12 MPs will sit together in dharna during the entire winter session.

The Lok Sabha, too, witnessed repeated adjournments. Speaker Om Birla called a meeting of the floor leaders to sort it out, but with little success.

Former finance secy in 3-member panel to decide EWS criteria

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

The government has constituted a committee to revisit the criteria for determining the economically weaker sections (EWS) to provide them reservation. The government had informed the Supreme Court last week that it has taken a decision to revisit the criteria.

The committee members are former finance secretary Ajay Bhushan Pandey, member secretary of Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR) V K Malhotra and principal economic advisor to the government Sanjay Sanyal. The committee has been asked to complete its work within three weeks. In an official memorandum issued on Tuesday, the Social Justice and Empowerment Ministry said the government constituted the committee in accordance with the commitment given to the Supreme Court to revisit the criteria for determining the economically weaker sections (EWS) in terms of the provisions of the explanation to Article 15 of the Constitution.

No error found in NEET question, Centre tells SC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Centre on Tuesday informed the Supreme Court that a three-member committee comprising professors of IIT, Delhi Technological University and the National Physics Laboratory has concluded that there was no error in a physics question in Hindi in the NEET-UG test held earlier this year. The test is conducted by National Testing Agency (NTA).

A bench headed by Justice DY Chandrachud dismissed a plea by 22 NEET-UG candidates who sought recalculation of their scores due to the alleged error in a physics question in Hindi.

The counsel representing the students contended before the bench that the court has to look at the physics textbook, which is considered the Bible for students, before disposing of their petition.

At this, the bench remarked that the book may be the Bible for students, but the opinion given by the professors is like the opinion of Jesus Christ. "We have to go by the opinion." said the bench.

The bench noted that the panel of three independent experts opined that the answer for the physics question in Hindi and English versions was the same.

On November 25, the Supreme Court had directed the Centre to set up a committee of three experts to examine the correctness of the question in the NEET-UG 2021 exam.

Appearing for NTA, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta said that the panel found that irrespective of the medium, English or Hindi, the answer to the question will remain same.

Admiral Hari Kumar takes charge as 25th Chief of Naval Staff

Admiral R Hari Kumar seeks his mother's blessings on Tuesday

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

ADMIRAL R Hari Kumar assumed command of Indian Navy on Tuesday as the 25th Chief of the Naval Staff. He succeeds Admiral Karambir Singh, who retires upon superannuation after an illustrious career spanning over 41 years.

Admiral Hari Kumar is an alumnus of the prestigious National Defence Academy and was commissioned into the Indian Navy on January 1, 1983.

In his career spanning over 38 years, Admiral Hari Kumar has commanded Coast Guard Ship C-01, Indian Navy ships Nishank, Kora, Ranvir and the Aircraft Carrier INS Viraat. A Gunnery specialist, he has held several key appointments, including Fleet Operations Officer (FOO) and Fleet Gunnery Officer (FGO) of Western Fleet, Executive Officer (EXO) of INS Vipul, Gunnery Officer of INS Ranjit, commissioning GO of INS Kuthar and commissioning crew of INS Ranvir.

His shore appointments include Command Gunnery Officer at HQWNC, Naval Advisor to Government of Seychelles, UN Mission in Somalia (UNOSOM II) at Mogadishu and Training Commander, INS Dronacharya. As a Flag Officer, Admiral Hari Kumar has served as Commandant of the Naval War College (NWC) in Goa, Flag Officer Sea Training (FOST), Flag Officer Commanding Western Fleet (FOCWF), Chief of Staff (COS), Western Naval Command (WNC), Controller Personnel Services (CPS) and Chief of Personnel (COP) at Naval Headquarters.

He also served as the Chief of Integrated Defence Staff to The Chairman Chiefs Of Staff Committee (CISC) during the creation of the institution of Chief of Defence Staff (CDS).

MALLYA CONTEMPT PUNISHMENT ON JAN 18

New Delhi: The Supreme Court on Tuesday said it has waited for long and the process to award punishment to Vijay Mallya in a contempt of court case he was held guilty in 2017 must get over. The court has slated the hearing for disposal on January 18, when it will decide the quantum of punishment. Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, representing the Centre, submitted a note by the Ministry of External Affairs for the court's consideration. A bench headed by Justice UU Lalit, citing the note, said Mallya's extradition proceedings have attained finality, as he has exhausted all avenues of appeal in the UK. However, certain confidential proceedings are going on and the UK has not disclosed the details of these proceedings. The court noted that due to these proceedings, Mallya's presence could not be secured, despite its directions. The bench said the process to award sentence to Mallya in the contempt of court matter must get over. The court said it is up to Mallya to appear in person or advance arguments through his counsel.

All eyes on Didi's meeting with Pawar today

Mamata's visit is being seen in the context of her ambition to forge an opposition alliance for the next LS polls

Shiv Sena's Aaditya Thackeray with the TMC chief in Mumbai on Tuesday | PTI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

CLOSE on the heels of an eventful trip to Delhi, Trinamool Congress chief Mamata Banerjee arrived in Mumbai for a two-day visit during which she would be meeting NCP president Sharad Pawar and other prominent political leaders.

The West Bengal chief minister has a packed schedule as she would be attending a host of events, including an entrepreneur's conference. Coming ahead of the polls in five states including the neighbouring state of Goa, her visit is being linked to the TMC's growing ambitions of cementing an alliance of like-minded anti-BJP alliance for the 2024 general elections.

On Wednesday, Mamata would be meeting Sharad Pawar who was his senior colleague in the Congress before he parted ways with the party. NCP chief spokesperson Nawab Malik confirmed the meeting of the two leaders. "West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee will pay a courtesy visit to our party president on Wednesday at 3.00 pm at his residence Silver Oak," he said.

The TMC supremo, meanwhile, met Maharashtra minister Aaditya Thackeray and Shiv Sena Rajya Sabha MP Sanjay Raut. But, she was unable to visit Maharashtra Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray who is recuperating from surgery.

Earlier, Mamata said she would invite industrialists to the Bengal Global Business Summit, which will be held in April next year, and urge them to invest in her state. "Bengal is the destination for new industries and investments." The business summit will be organised by the Bengal government with Covid safety precautions to attract much-needed investments, she said. "The economy, the country and life cannot come to a standstill out of fear of the pandemic."

The TMC chief said that she will meet eminent personalities at a programme, which is being organised by poet-lyricist Javed Akhtar and politician -columnist Sudheendra Kulkarni. The two had met Mamata when she was in Delhi on a four-day visit.

Judge pays admission fees of IIT aspirant

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

A poor Scheduled Caste student, who could not deposit fees at IIT-BHU, found a messiah in Justice DK Singh of Lucknow bench of the Allahabad High Court who volunteered to contribute ₹15,000 for her admission to the prestigious institution.

The bench of Justice DK Singh, on Monday, issued directives to the Joint Seat Allocation Authority and IIT-BHU to admit the student in mathematics and computing (five-year, bachelor and master of technology, dual degree course). It directed BHU to create an extra seat for the student if it was required. The bench also directed the student to report at BHU within three days for admission.

The order was passed by the bench while hearing a petition moved by Sanskriti Ranjan, who had pleaded for time from the Authority and IIT-BHU to deposit ₹15,000 in fees. It was mentioned in the plea that the student belonged to the Scheduled Caste category. She had secured 95.6% marks in high school and 94% in Class XII.

In her petition, Sanskriti had mentioned that she had secured 92.77% marks in JEE Mains and secured a rank of 2062 in the SC category.

Thereafter, the petitioner had applied for JEE Advanced on September 16 and cleared it on October 15 with 1,469 rank in Scheduled Caste category. "The petitioner was allotted a seat at IIT-BHU. However, she could not arrange the fees to be paid," stated the petition.

Considering it to be a peculiar situation, the judge volunteered to pitch in and ensured that she was given admission in the IIT-BHU within the next three days.

Dhami gives in to priests, scraps Char Dham Act

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

UTTARAKHAND Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami on Tuesday announced to repeal the Char Dham Devsthanam Board Act which has been a bone of contention between priests and his government.

The proposal to repeal the law will be brought in the winter session of Assembly scheduled on December 9-10.

The decision was taken on the basis of talks with all stakeholders and the recommendations of the Manohar Kant Dhyani Committee.

Dhami said he took the decision in public welfare as 'Mukhya Sewak' of the state keeping in mind the 'desh, kaal, paristhiti' (place, time, circumstances). He urged the priests, who had put pressure on the government, to stop the protests now.

While the priests welcomed the decision, the Opposition Congress termed the move a poll gimmick. Gangotri Mandir Samiti president Harish Semwal and Yamunotri Teerth Purohit Mahasabha chief Purushottam Uniyal said it was a victory of "Sanatan dharma" and thanked the CM "on behalf of the entire priest community".

However, Congress leader Harish Rawat said, "This is the result of struggles of our priests as well as the Opposition which continuously strived against the decision. The government took this step due to fear of defeat in the polls."

The law was enacted in December 2019 to manage the four main shrines as well as 51 associated temples. The priests are opposing the law claiming it will rob them of their traditional rights.

Omar, Mehbooba hit active mode as new players emerge in Kashmir

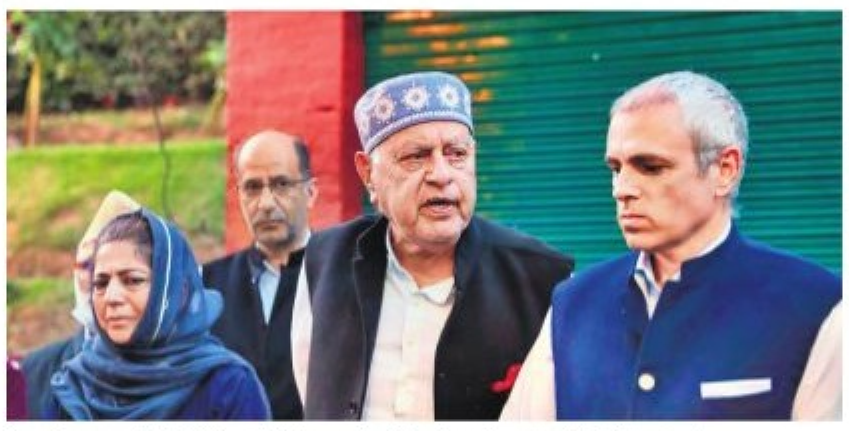
FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

KASHMIR is witnessing a shrill political pitch with political parties shrugging off the lull post Article 370 revocation and raising emotive issues to secure their support base in a new scenario that has emerged in last two years.

National Conference leader Omar Abdullah is on a tour of the Chenab Valley comprising Ramban, Kishtwar and Doda districts of Jammu region. Omar talked about the restoration of Article 370 and 35A and surge in militancy and lack of development in public meetings and workers conventions.

Before Omar, PDP chief Mehbooba Mufti visited the Pir Panjal region comprising Rajouri and Poonch districts and addressed party workers and public meetings. In north Kashmir's Bandipora, she accused BJP of dividing regional parties to create proxies for legitimising abrogation of Article 370.

Another senior leader, Ghulam Nabi Azad of the Congress, also held interactions with party workers and supporters. In south Kashmir, Azad adopted a soft policy on Article 370 saying there was no point in talking on the issue as it was already discussed in Parliament. Instead, he sought the restoration of statehood and holding of polls.



Experts aver that PDP and NC cannot afford to stay aloof in Kashmir | FILE

Not to be left behind, J&K BJP chief Ravindra Raina visited Karnah village in Kupwara in north Kashmir to interact and address party workers.

Political commentator Rekha Choudhary said political parties — especially NC and PDP — are reconciling to the new situation and are linking their political activity with elections, which may be held after completion of delimitation. The DDC polls, she said, gave boost to prospects of many parties. The two main parties were trying to regain their clout as Apni Party and Peoples Conference are strengthening their grip in north Kashmir, she said. "The situation is open for all and parties are trying to use resources to gain support."

According to Rekha, the DDC polls made it clear to NC and PDP that they would be big losers if they stay away from elections. "They understood that being mainstream parties, they have to contest polls otherwise they will become redundant."

Another political expert, who refused to be named, said the two parties have realised that "boycott politics" won't work and that they would have to remain politically active and connected to stay relevant. "With entry of Apni Party and PC, NC and PDP cannot afford to stay inactive else they will lose their base and become irrelevant in J&K's political landscape."

Channi blames Badals for sacrilege, police firings

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

FACING intense pressure from his own party chief Navjot Singh Sidhu, Punjab CM Charanjit Singh Channi on Tuesday squarely blamed the Badals for the sacrilege incidents in Bargari and consequent police firing incidents in Behbal Kalan and Kotkapura.

At a public gathering in Kotkapura, he said the Badals were hand-in-glove with the perpetrators and vowed that the "real perpetrators of this unpardonable crime" would not be spared.

However, with the assembly elections round the corner, the Channi government is in a bind over the issue. While Sidhu has been publicly questioning the inaction on the issues of sacrilege and firing as well as the STF report on drug menace, sources said three-four senior ministers in the Channi government and some senior Congress leaders are against any action on Dera Sacha Sauda on the issue of sacrilege fearing a defeat in their constituencies.

Dera followers congregated in thousands in Sangrur, Bathinda and Faridkot districts on Sunday to celebrate the birthday of former chief Shah Mastana and Punjab cabinet minister Vijay Inder Singla attended one of the functions.

Party leaders also seem to be pulling in opposite directions on punishing the big fish in the drugs case.

Mayawati arrives for a press conference in Lucknow on Tuesday | PTI

Modi, Yogi govts trying to dilute quota, says Maya

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

BAHUJAN Samaj Party chief Mayawati on Tuesday accused the BJP governments of trying to dilute reservation benefits.

The Modi government had turned a deaf ear to the demands of the OBCs for a caste-based census because of its casteist mentality, she alleged.

Interacting with media persons on Tuesday after a review meeting of BSP office bearers from Muslim, Jat and OBC communities, Mayawati said they had been entrusted with bringing in people from their communities for the 86 reserved (SC) seats. "If BSP forms government, our government will keep in mind the rights and development of OBCs, Muslims and Jats," she said, reiterating that her party would be contesting on its own.

Accusing the Congress of not implementing the recommendations of the Mandal Commission despite ruling the country for the longest period after Independence, Mayawati credited her own party for getting the report enforced during the erstwhile VP Singh government at the Centre.

Muslims are very upset with the state govt. Their progress has stopped. Their exploitation is being done by framing them in fake cases and fear is created among them with new rules and laws.

Mayawati,
BSP chief

However, she claimed that the present BJP dispensations at the Centre and the state were trying to make reservation ineffective by making laws and rules and also through courts.

The BSP supremo claimed that under the BJP rule in UP, the minority communities, especially Muslims, were unhappy. "They are being harassed by people who frame them in false cases, and are being terrorised through new rules and laws," said Mayawati. During the BSP regime, the safety as well as progress of the community was ensured, she claimed.

13 arrested for lynching student leader in Assam

GUWAHATI: Thirteen people were arrested in connection with the lynching of an All Assam Students' Union (AASU) leader in Jorhat, with CM Himanta Biswa Sarma directing the police to file the charge sheet within 30 days.

"We have so far arrested 13 people, including the main culprit Niraj Das alias Kola Lora. Our investigation is on," Jorhat Superintendent of Police, Ankur Jain told this newspaper.

The AASU had on Monday given 24 hours to the police to arrest those involved in the lynching of its leader Animesh Bhuyan in broad daylight. Jorhat was closed on Tuesday following the outfit's call of a shutdown.

A mob had attacked Bhuyan, a journalist working with a local TV channel, and another person after an old man fell off his scooter and was injured. The mob suspected the trio of hitting the man with their car and attacked them, leaving them grievously injured. They were rushed to a hospital but Bhuyan died on the way.

The CM, meanwhile, directed Special Director-General of Police GP Singh to supervise the probe. At his direction, Education Minister Ranoj Pegu visited the house of the slain student leader. ENS

Goa Forward Party reaches out to Congress

MUMBAI: Goa Forward Party (GFP) president Vijai Sardesai met Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday in Delhi and extended his support to the Congress for the Goa election.

Both the parties have decided to fight the elections together and a decision on seat sharing would be taken soon, Congress' Goa in-charge Dinesh Gundurao said. "We will fight together and give a clean and transparent government in Goa. This meeting was for sealing the alliance."

Independent MLA Prasad Gaonkar also met Rahul and extended his support to the Congress.

Sardesai shared a picture of the meeting with Rahul on Twitter. "Met Rahul Gandhi today with my colleagues. We have agreed to fight unitedly and determinedly on behalf of the people to end the corrupt, incompetent and undemocratic rule of the BJP in Goa," he tweeted.

Elections are to be held in Goa in February-March next year. After the high-profile exit of former chief minister Luizinho Faleiro, the Congress is looking to forge an alliance with the GFP as well as the Nationalist Congress Party. ENS

Silver, copper coins of yore found in Baghpat

A Baghpat-based businessman and history buff Amit Rai Jain recently found coinage made of silver and copper from a mound, known locally as the 'Katha mound' from Khekhra region of Baghpat, close to the Delhi-Saharanpur highway. The coins which have a bull and a horseman engraved on them are said to be from the era of Rajput king Prithviraj Chauhan. As per Jain, the coins are believed to belong to Rajput rulers who remained dominant in the region comprising the Gangetic plains from the eighth century to 12th century AD. Jain is also member of Uttar Pradesh-based Culture & History Association.

UP hailed favourable film shooting destination at IFFI

Efforts to set up film city matching international standards in Greater Noida got a push when Bollywood stars like Karan Johar, Akshay Kumar, Boney Kapoor and Ravi Kishan heaped praise on UP at 52nd International Film Festival of India (IFFI) underway in Goa as a favourable destination for film shooting. Production houses making films in Tamil, Telugu and other regional languages are also opting for UP. While Karan Johar named Lucknow, Varanasi or Kanpur, as destinations which automatically lead to stories, film producer Boney Kapoor said the state has even more varieties to offer. Films like 'Jolly LLB', 'Mom', 'Toilet: Ek Prem Katha', 'Shaadi Mein Zaroor Aana', 'Sonu Ke Titu Ki Sweety', and 'Nil Batey Sannata', have got subsidies. Currently, 46 films are in the final stage of receiving subsidies.

Dastangos impress PM Modi, find mention in address

Lucknow's dastangos (story tellers) Himanshu Bajpai and Pragya Sharma found a special mention in PM Narendra Modi's 'Mann Ki Baat' radio broadcast on Sunday. Both were mentioned for their power-packed performance narrating the indomitable courage of Rani Durgavati in one of their events at Katni in Madhya Pradesh. The PM shared the audio clip of the duo from the Katni event. He said, "A few friends from Katni have also shared information about a memorable Dastangoi event. In this, the extraordinary bravery and sacrifice of Rani Durgavati was narrated." "We are honoured that the PM appreciated us. This will help popularise this art form and we wish that more and more people become aware about dastangoi and stories of historical and cultural importance reach everyone," Bajpai said.

Name changing spree

The UP government has renamed the well-known Mughal Road in Agra as Maharaja Agrasen Road. As per Mayor Naveen Jain, the demand came from residents of Kamla Nagar, a majority of whom are followers of Maharaja Agrasen. Legend has it that Agrasen was the king of Agroha, a city of traders in ancient times. Similarly, Ramghat Marg in Aligarh was named after former UP CM late Kalyan Singh as Ramghat Kalyan Marg. Besides, 'Sultanganj Ki Pulia' was also changed to 'Vikal Chowk', he said. The Mughal Road name change was announced in the presence of Maharaja Agrasen followers and locals, the mayor said.

Taliban abduct, kill 100 former Afghan officers

Ex-police, intel officials were hunted down despite amnesty promise, say rights groups

KABUL

EVEN as the chief Taliban fighters have summarily killed or forcibly "disappeared" more than 100 former police and intelligence officers since taking power in Afghanistan, Human Rights Watch said in a report Tuesday. The group pointed to continuing retaliation against the armed forces of the ousted government despite an announced amnesty.

Taliban forces have hunted down former officers using government employment records and have targeted those who surrendered and received letters guaranteeing their safety, the report said. In some cases, local Taliban commanders have drawn up lists of people to be targeted, saying they committed "unforgivable" acts.

"The pattern of killings has sown terror throughout Afghanistan, as no one associated with the former government can feel secure they have escaped the threat of reprisal," Human Rights Watch said in the report.

The Taliban seized power on Aug. 15 when they swept into the capital Kabul as the internationally backed government collapsed. Since that time, the Taliban have been struggling to deal with the collapse of the country's economy and have faced an increasingly deadly insurgency by the Islamic State group.

Taliban forces have also targeted people they suspect of supporting the Islamic State group in eastern Nangarhar province, an epicenter of IS attacks,. In the province's capital Jalalabad, a fierce, 8-hour gunbattle erupted Tuesday when Taliban forces raided a suspected hideout of IS militants, witnesses said. The deputy provincial police chief, Tahir Mobariz, said that during the fighting, a woman and a man in the house detonated suicide vests, dying in the blasts, and third person was killed by gunfire. Two suspected militants were arrested, he said.

The Taliban leadership has repeatedly announced that workers of the former government, including members of the armed forces, have nothing to fear from them. Former army officers have said they were ordered to give up their weapons, and in return they received a document confirming their surrender and ensuring their safety. AP

HOW PARAG COULD STEER TWITTER'S FUTURE COURSE

Twitter CEO Parag Agrawal has emerged from behind the scenes to take over one of Silicon Valley's highest-profile and politically volatile jobs. But his prior lack of name recognition coupled with a solid technical background appears to be what some big company backers were looking for to lead Twitter out of its current morass

FOR THE METAVERSE

Agrawal's appointment was seen by Wall Street as a choice of someone who will focus on ushering Twitter into what's widely seen as the internet's next era — the metaverse

MACHINE LEARNING CHIEF

As the head of technology at the firm, he oversaw machine learning and artificial intelligence, as well as the company's broad technical strategy.

These specialties make him a natural choice to replace Dorsey, Creative Strategies analyst Carolina Milanesi told AFP

TWITTER'S SPUTTERING GROWTH ENGINE

While Twitter has high-profile users like politicians and celebrities and is a favorite of journalists, its user base lags far behind old rivals like Facebook and YouTube and newer ones like TikTok. It has just over 200 million daily active users, a common industry metric.

BLUESKY

Agrawal was also head of the company's Bluesky push to create an open-source and independent networking protocol for social media that other firms can use. Twitter itself could eventually begin using Bluesky, experts suggested

2011 Agrawal began working in Twitter as a product engineer. Twitter then had just 1,000 workers

2017 He became CTO. He is close to Dorsey, reports indicate. At the end of last year, Twitter had 5,500 employees

CEO Parag Agrawal | TWITTER

37
AT 37 YEARS OLD, AGRAWAL IS NOW THE YOUNGEST CEO OF A FORTUNE 500 COMPANY

ACCUSED WRONGLY OF BIAS AGAINST WHITE PEOPLE

Agrawal got a fast introduction to life as CEO of Twitter as conservatives quickly unearthed a tweet he sent in 2010 that read "If they are not gonna make a distinction between muslims and extremists, then why should I distinguish between white people and racists."

As some Twitter users pointed out, the 11-year-old tweet was quoting a segment on "The Daily Show," which was referencing the firing of Juan Williams, who made a comment about being nervous about Muslims on an airplane

DECISIONS ON FREE SPEECH

In an interview with MIT Technology Review in 2020, Agrawal said the company should "focus less" on free speech

"Our role is to serve a healthy public conversation and our moves are reflective of things that we believe lead to a healthier public conversation"

Zara founder's daughter to be Inditex chair

MADRID

INDITEX, the parent company of Zara, has said that Marta Ortega — the daughter of the Spanish clothing giant's founder — will take over as chairwoman of the group in a generational shift for the firm.

She will replace Pablo Isla, who has been chairman since 2011, in April, the company said in a statement. He was deputy chairman between 2005 and 2011.

Ortega, 37, has been working for the group in different areas for the last 15 years, even working anonymously as a shop employee at one point to learn the ins and outs of the company.

She is the youngest daughter of Amancio Ortega, 85, who founded fast-fashion giant Zara with his ex-wife Rosalia in 1975 in Spain's northwestern region of Galicia and has long been seen as the heir to the company.

"I will always be where the company needs me most," she told the Wall Street Journal in August 2021 during a rare media interview which revived speculation that she would one day take over the world's biggest fashion retailer ahead of Sweden's H&M.

"You never know what your future will be and I am open to it. Honestly, I would like to be close to the product. I think that's what my father always did," she added. AFP

Elizabeth Holmes | AFP

Holmes accuses former partner of sex abuse in Theranos trial

SAN JOSE

DISGRACED entrepreneur Elizabeth Holmes described herself as the abused puppet of her former lover and business partner Sunny Balwani in tearful testimony Monday, part of her attempt to refute accusations that she lied about a flawed blood-testing technology she had hailed as a major breakthrough.

After recounting how she met Balwani while she was still in high school, Holmes said she eventually fell under his sway after she dropped out of Stanford University in 2003 to found Theranos, a Silicon Valley startup she led as CEO for the next 15 years.

A weeping Holmes, now 37, testified she was raped at Stanford — a factor she believes played a role in what she characterized as her later subservience to Balwani, now 56. The two became romantically involved in 2005 before Balwani became chief operating officer at Theranos, a position he held from 2009 to 2016.

Even before joining Theranos, Balwani was regularly berating Holmes as an inept executive who needed to "kill" her former self in an effort to become more disciplined and focused, as per her testimony and contemporaneous notes with strict instructions for Holmes handwritten by Balwani.

"He felt like I came across as a little girl and thought I needed to be more serious and more pointed," Holmes explained as she read through Balwani's demands. They included spending at least 30 minutes each morning writing out her daily goals and never spending more than five minutes meeting with anyone without a reason. AP

BARBADOS BIDS BRITISH QUEEN ADIEU

BRIDGETOWN

AS Barbados became the world's newest republic, its prime minister's first act was to officially declare the island's most famous citizen, Rihanna, a national hero.

Barbados had already conferred the title of ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary on the billionaire multiple Grammy-winning singer and businesswoman in 2018 and tasked her with encouraging education and tourism.

The "Umbrella" songstress commanded "the imagination of the world through the pursuit of excellence with her creativity, her discipline, and above all else, her extraordinary commitment to the land of her birth," Prime Minister Mia Mottley told the assembled dignitaries at the "Pride of Nationhood" celebrations on Tuesday.

Fireworks filled the sky over Barbados as the Caribbean island nation declared itself the world's newest republic, lowering Queen Elizabeth's flag as it severed colonial-era ties to the British throne to the sound of jubilant gun salutes.

"Republic Barbados has set sail on her maiden voyage," Dame Sandra Mason said in her inauguration speech as the first president of the country, recognizing the "complex, fractured and turbulent world" it would need to navigate. AFP

Working out new Bill on cryptocurrency: FM

Says, the Bill is expected to be placed in the ongoing session of Parliament after approval of the Union Cabinet

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

FINANCE minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Tuesday said the government is working out a new Bill on cryptocurrency which will be placed in the ongoing session of Parliament after approval of the Union Cabinet, putting to rest many apprehensions by the industry players that the government will bring the same old bill which proposed ban on all private cryptocurrencies.

"Yes, last time (monsoon session) there was a Bill but subsequently because there were other dimensions…That Bill has been reworked. And in a way the bill which is coming now is a new Bill. But, never mind, the work done on that Bill have all been taken on board here," the minister said.

The FM was replying to a series of questions in the Rajya Sabha, she said the new Bill takes into account the rapidly changing dimensions in virtual currency space, and incorporate features of the earlier draft Bill. Citing statements from the RBI, the SEBI and the government, she underlined that investors need to remain cautious and the government is monitoring the risk of cryptocurrency going in the wrong hands.

Last time there was a Bill but subsequently because there were other dimensions...That Bill has been reworked. And in a way the bill which is coming now is a new Bill

Nirmala Sitharaman, Finance Minister

Finance Minister said that the government has all the intensions of tabling the bill and the focus is on creating awareness about cryptocurrency among youth before a bill is tabled in Parliament, without divulging any further details about the content of the Bill.

"This Bill, once the Cabinet clears it, will come here into the House," the finance minister said, adding that the proposed legislation is likely to be introduced soon. This will put to rest many apprehensions that the government may defer the bill this session also.

On asked if the government proposes to ban misleading advertisements in media, she said the guidelines of Advertising Standards Council of India are being studied and their regulations are also being looked into "so that we can take, if necessary, some kind of a position or a decision to see how we are going to handle it".

The government has listed Cryptocurrency and Regulation of Official Digital Currency Bill 2021 in the ongoing Winter Session of Parliament.

Hope for crypto players

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

CRYPTO players have something to cheer about as Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Tuesday said there were extensive discussions on the regulation of cryptocurrencies and that the government is working on a new Crypto Bill.

Crypto players and experts have hailed the move.

"These are all steps in the right direction as we continue to build a prosperous crypto ecosystem for users to transact safely," said Ashish Singhal, Founder, and CEO of CoinSwitch Kuber. Ashish is also the Co-Chair of the Blockchain and Crypto Assets Council (BACC), part of the Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI).

The FM said that regulation of non-fungible tokens (NFTs) is also being considered.

Sujata Seshadrinathan, Director, Basiz Fund Services, said, "While there is no ban on crypto, Bitcoin will not be allowed. This is probably an outcome of risks of illegal transfers and non-desirable activities which are being duly monitored by enforcement authorities. Similarly, advertisements will be monitored and regulated if needed based on the guidelines of ASCI. The finance minister said that steps are being taken by Sebi and RBI to caution people about the risks."

Siddharth Menon, COO and Co-Founder at WazirX tweeted, "Big day for crypto in India. I am feeling more positive."

Unocoin Co-Founder & CEO Sathvik Vishwanath said this is great news as FM clarified that the draft bill prepared during 2018-19 is being rewritten. "However, we will have to wait and watch to know the full details of the bill," he added.

Rural markets saw 2.9% dip in volume due to slowdown in consumption

Govt keeps fiscal deficit at 36% of target

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A tight control on its expenses and robust tax collection has helped the government keep its fiscal deficit under control. The fiscal deficit of the government in the April-Oct 2021 period stood at ₹5.44 lakh crore, just 36% of the full-year Budget target of ₹15 lakh cr. Last year during the same period, the number reached 120% of the Budget target.

₹10.5 L cr Net tax collection
₹12.6 L cr Total revenues
₹18.3 L cr Total expenses

The net tax collection of the government during the period was ₹10.5 lakh crore, which is 68% of the Budget target of ₹15.45 lakh crore, while its total revenues (tax and non-tax revenues) in the first seven months of the financial year was ₹12.6 lakh crore, just 30% short of the budgeted ₹17.88 lakh crore. Gross tax collection, which also includes taxes shared with states, during the period jumped 55% y-o-y to ₹13.64 lakh crore on the back of a robust growth in corporate as well as personal income tax. Corporate tax collection increased 92% in the first 7 months of 2021-22 to reach ₹3.3 lakh crore. Personal income tax collections grew 55% to ₹3.1 lakh crore.

In indirect taxes, customs duty increased 120% to ₹1.12 lakh crore, showing normalisation of international trade and robust growth in imports. Central GST collections also increased 55% during the period to reach ₹3.14 lakh crore. Excise duty collections rose 25% to ₹2 lakh crore.

The government has kept a tight leash on its expenses so far as its total expenses just crossed half way mark of the Budget target (₹34.8 lakh cr) to ₹18.3 lakh cr. Revenue expenses were at ₹15.7 lakh crore against the Budget target of ₹29.3 lakh crore. Capital expenses remained moderate at ₹2.53 lakh crore, 45% of the Budget target. Rating agency ICRA said, despite the likely revenue foregone from the excise and customs duty relief, the gross tax revenues of the government are likely to exceed the Budget target by ₹1.8 lakh crore.

Nielsen: FMCG consumption declines in rural India

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

WHILE the FMCG industry has grown at 12.6% in Q3 2021 over the same period a year ago, rural India has seen a decline in consumption, according to a report.

NielsenIQ's FMCG Snapshot for the September quarter shows there has been a slowdown in rural (9.4% value growth in Q3 2021) due to consumption, which has declined by 2.9%, although prices continue to grow. The categories that show a slip were cooking medium, packaged grocery, hot beverages. In non-foods, fabric care, and personal care witnessed consumption decline.

On the other hand, food products like cooking mediums and Impulse foods, and non-food items — personal care and fabric care — are contributing to the uptick in Metros.

Food basket that contributes to 59% of the FMCG industry witnessed a double-digit growth driven by prices. The report says, "Overall, the Indian FMCG industry witnessed a significant price-led growth in the quarter on account of increasing commodity & raw material prices, and high fuel prices leading to higher transportation costs. This resulted in a double-digit nominal growth, but a drop in consumption (volume) growth for the industry."

Diptanshu Ray, NielsenIQ South Asia Lead, adds, "Though there continues to be pressure on the consumer, this is offset by the encouraging uptick seen in modern trade in the urban markets."

Unemployment rate inches up to 9.3% in Jan-March qtr: NSO

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

URBAN unemployment rate has increased to 9.3% in the January-March 2021 period from 9.1% in the year-ago period, according to a periodic labour force survey by the National Statistical Office (NSO). While 9.3% is lower than the peak urban unemployment level of 20.8% recorded in the April-June quarter of last year, it is still at higher than pre-Covid levels.

The figures, released on Tuesday, also showed that unemployment among women is rising as 11.3% women in the labour force found themselves without a job in the January-March 2021 quarter compared to 10.6% in the year-ago period. Unemployment among males remained at the same level as last year, at 8.6%.

Labour force participation rate (percentage of persons in labour force in the population) in urban areas came down to 47.5% in January-March quarter of 2021, compared to 48.1% in the same period a year ago. Women's participation in the labour force at 21.2% in the January-March quarter was lower than 21.9% in the same quarter previous year though it was better than 20.6% in the October-December 2020 quarter.

The working population ratio, defined as the percentage of employed persons in the population, stood at 43.1% in January-March 2021, down from 43.7% a year ago.

Me N Moms targets ₹200 cr turnover in FY22 with more retail expansion

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

KIDS and maternity wear retailer Me N Moms is targeting a turnover of ₹200 crore in FY22, up from ₹150 crore in FY 2021.

The company, which recently announced its plans of launching 200 stores by the end of this fiscal, told TNIE that after Covid-19, there have been a lot of inquiries from tier-2 cities like Panipat and Gandhinagar for franchises. "We have already signed 15 franchises, and are planning to open more company stores," said Naresh Khatar, Managing Director, Me N Moms. The company in November launched 12 new stores.

Various majors like Godrej and Dabur have recently forayed into the baby care segment. Affordable quality, according to Khatar, is Me N Moms' USP that will help the brand take on bigger firms. Khatar claims the retailer's baby care products are priced at least 20-25% less than other brands in the same category.

Hyderabad, with 20 stores, is the most important city for the brand while North is coming fast, says the MD, adding they are tying up with franchises in the north-east as well. "Of the new stores, 25-50 will be franchises, for which the investment is ₹25-40 lakh depending on the store size. Similarly, ₹25-30 lakh would be invested for company stores," Khatar informed.

The brand currently has 135 stores running, employing 750-800 people.

Talking about the digital strategy, Aneesha Khatar, Brand Custodian, Me N Moms, says they have come up with a concept of having mommy influencers talk about the brand.

"We have customers coming to the store who may not be influencers as the term goes, but have their own following. We are collaborating with them to talk about the products as they have got hands-on experience with the brand," says Aneesha, noting they are seeing a lot of traction there.

Me N Moms recently launched its fruit-based skincare range, portable baby cots, and is further working on a line of butter for babies, high chairs and 3-in-one chairs.

TRAI invites view on 5G spectrum modalities

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

TELECOM Regulator Authority of India (TRAI) on Tuesday invited views of stakeholders on modalities of 5G spectrum bands including reserve price, band plan, block size, quantum of spectrum to be auctioned.

In a Consultation Paper, TRAI sought comments by 28 December for auction of spectrum in new bands such as 526-698 MHz and the millimetre wave band of 24.25-28.5 GHz, besides those in the 700 MHz, 800 MHz, 900 MHz, 1800 MHz, 2100 MHz, 2300 MHz, 2500 MHz and 3300-3670 MHz bands.

"The Department of Telecommunications (DoT), through its letter dated 13th September 2021, requested TRAI to provide recommendations on "Auction of spectrum in the frequencies identified for International Mobile Telecommunications (IMT) / 5G" said TRAI in a statement. To fix a saleable price of airwaves, the regulator sought stakeholder views on whether any other methodology not currently followed by it but followed elsewhere globally should be used to value the airwaves. It also asked whether a certain portion of the spectrum should be earmarked for private networks

Go Fashion stock makes debut at 90% premium

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER a dud show by Paytm on its very first day in the public market, Go Fashion, which owns women's bottom-wear brand Go Colors, made a bumper debut on the bourses on Tuesday, listing at over 90% premium over its issue price of ₹690.

Go Fashion's share was listed at ₹1,316 on the BSE and closed the session at ₹1,252.60, recording gains of ₹562.60 a piece or 81.54%.

On the NSE, it was listed at ₹1,310 and closed at ₹1,250.30. The company's market cap stood at ₹6,765.17 crore at the time of closing.

Analysts have advised investors to book profit at current level and re-enter the stock at lower level. According to them, the women's bottom-wear industry will continue to grow at a double-digit figure in the coming years.

"We had recommended 'subscribe' to the Go Fashion IPO. The stock is up ~78% from the higher end of the price band. At market price of ₹1,226, the stock is trading at 52x enterprise value/ EBITDA (FY20) which leaves little room for upside. Hence, we recommend to book profits," said Amarjeet Maurya, analyst at Angel One, during the market hours.

Vinod Nair, Head of Research at Geojit Financial Services, said that they like Go Fashion considering it is the first company to launch exclusive brand dedicated to women's bottom wear, investment in digital & omnichannel engagement, distributive growth strategy to tap customers from tier 1 to tier 3 cities and expansions plans for existing and newer geographies. "With strong appreciation over the offer price, it appears the current positives are largely factored in. Given the solid listing, profit booking is expected, long-term investors can accumulate the stock in the dip," added Nair.

CIL to invest ₹19,650 cr to boost its railway infra

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

TO boost its annual transportation capacity by an additional 330 million tonne (MT) in the next three years, Coal India Ltd (CIL) is planning to invest ₹19,650 crore in rail infrastructure. The state-owned coal production company will construct rail links and set up joint ventures to boost its infrastructure. "To increase coal evacuation capacity through rail mode by an additional 330 million tonnes per annum (MTPA) by FY 2024, when production is expected to scale up significantly, Coal India Limited (CIL) is investing an estimated capital of ₹19,650 crore in strengthening its rail infrastructure," said CIL in a statement.

Coal India is constructing three railway lines in Central Coalfields Ltd and Mahanadi Coalfields Ltd at an investment of ₹7,994 crore to transport 170 million tonnes annually. It has also formed JVs with Chattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha requiring an investment to transport fuel. "The Maharatna coal mining behemoth is constructing three important railway lines from its own funds, on deposit basis, in CCL and MCL at an estimated capital of ₹7,994 crore having 170 MTPA coal transportation capacity. Additionally, the company has forged four rail joint ventures with Chattisgarh, Jharkhand and Odisha at a capital outlay of ₹11,656 crore which would help move 160 MTPA of coal," said CIL.

NO FIR AGAINST MGF FOR NOW, SAYS HC

The Delhi High Court has stayed a trial court order directing police to register an FIR against MGF Development chairman Shravan Gupta and others.The high court order comes after a sessions' court had dismissed a revision petition filed by MGF Development against the order of a Chief Metropolitan Magistrate court which directed the police to register an FIR against MGF and its chairman Shravan Gupta. The complaint was filed by Emaar India against MGF Development, Gupta and 11 others. HC will now hear the matter on December 13.

NCLT: Begin MGF's insolvency process

THE National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT) on Tuesday directed to initiate insolvency proceedings against MGF Developments and appointed an interim resolution professional after suspending the board of the realty firm.

A two-member Delhi based bench of NCLT passed the order by allowing a plea filed by the residents association of 'The Vilas Condominium', a project at sector 25 of Gurgaon, for breach clauses of the agreement between them, terming it as default.

The Vilas Condominium Association consisting of homebuyers having 327 units had alleged the amount of Interest-Bearing Maintenance Security (IBMS) collected from them has not been refunded to them.

They had also alleged that the common area maintenance and common area electricity charges, which MGF Developments was supposed to pay for the period from the date of accrual of maintenance charges till the date of allotment to a home buyer, have not been paid to them.

The NCLT said that the association has satisfied all the requirements of section 7 of IBC, for initiation of Insolvency proceedings against the realty firm. PTI

Odisha edge East Bengal in 10-goal thriller

VASCO: Hector Rodas and Aridai Suarez scored a brace each as Odisha FC came from behind to beat SC East Bengal 6-4 in a thrilling Indian Super League match here on Tuesday. Darren Sidoel (13th) opened the scoring for the Kolkata side with Semboi Haokip (80th) and Daniel Chima (90th, 90+2'P) also getting into the scoresheet. However, goals from Hector Rodas (33rd, 40th), Javi Hernandez (45th), Aridai Suarez (71st, 90+4') and Isak Vanlalruatfela (82nd) helped the Bhubaneswar-based side notched up a thrilling win and equal ATK Mohun Bagan with six points on top.

Czech-Belarus WC qualifier deferred

PRAGUE: A Women's World Cup qualifying game between the Czech Republic and Belarus was postponed Tuesday after several players on the visiting team tested positive for the coronavirus. UEFA said three Belarusian players were positive and three others must isolate as close contacts. The match could be postponed by a day. Belarus would need 13 players, including a goalkeeper, to play. The Czech soccer federation said the Belarusian team is being retested.

Croatia beat Italy to enter Davis Cup semis

TURIN: Croatia became the first team to reach the Davis Cup semifinals after seeing off Italy 2-1. With the singles squared, the top-ranked doubles team of Mate Pavic and Nikola Mektic had no trouble seeing off Fabio Fognini and Jannik Sinner 6-3, 6-4 in the decider on Monday. Sinner replaced Simone Bolelli after winning his singles, which took nearly three hours. But he and Fognini couldn't get a break point against Pavic and Mektic. Croatia to face either Serbia or Kazakhstan on Wednesday.

India target semis spot in jr World Cup

In a repeat of 2016 final, Vivek & Co will take on Belgium in quarterfinals today

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Bhubaneswar

THIS match was in the post the moment France beat India on the opening night of the junior World Cup. On course to face Malaysia, the India colts, shorn of match practice, tripped and fell against the European upstarts. So, as Belgium coach Jeroen Baart says, this 'is a final'. It was the final match of 2016 but while the teams and a majority of support staff (Baart is one of the few survivors of that final) have moved on, the match itself is likely to be decided on similar lines.

While India's play has become more structured, the coaches that have come after, including Graham Reid, have tried to retain their natural pace and front-foot aggression. Belgium, like most elite European sides, have this natural ability to keep the ball and pick the right moments to attack.

Both coaches focused on this area during the pre-match conference on Tuesday. "India will have that speed, vertical play... we focus more on control," Baart said. "For us, it's all about structure, show intensity at the right moment and survive the waves of attacks from India. "India will fly from the off, we will try to mix it up, don't make it predictable. We will see how to use these weapons at the right time."

From an Indian perspective, that's a challenge in itself because Belgium's 'DNA', as Reid calls it, is part of their hockey fabric, distilled through the age-group sides. It's a challenge because part of that DNA is remaining patient, keeping hold of the ball, preventing Indian attacks from entering the striking circle and 'maintaining discipline', according to Baart. They have used these 'weapons' to a big effect in previous high profile matches against India.

The hosts, for their part, will take heart from the visitors' less than convincing 1-1 draw against Malaysia. Reid, in fact, mentioned that the game showed them that they were vulnerable. "You saw some vulnerability," he said. The 60 minutes itself could be decided by who has more penalty corner opportunities and who keeps the ball in tight spaces in midfield. "It's an area that could influence the game on (Wednesday," Reid said.

While Vivek Sagar Prasad & Co. are good dribbling down the right hand side before cutting in, creating short corner opportunities have been a highly profitable route for them. Thirteen (12 penalty corners and one stroke) of the 25 goals they have scored have come from dead ball. If the hosts are able to fashion chances by playing that brand of high-energy hockey whilst maintaining structure at the back, Reid's boys will believe.

In a 'girls sport', US' boys fight to stay relevant

Bhubaneswar: As field hockey is considered to be more of a women's sport in the US, not many boys automatically view it as a career choice. Various reports say there are 10 women or girl hockey players for every boy or man involved in the sport. So, exclusive hockey programmes for men are almost non-existent in the US. Full story by Swaroop Swaminathan @newindianexpress.com

Messi pips Lewandowski for record 7th Ballon d'Or

AFP @Paris

LIONEL Messi admitted winning the Copa America with Argentina might have been the determining factor in him claiming the men's Ballon d'Or prize for the seventh time after a turbulent year, as Spain's Alexia Putellas took the women's award. Now 34, Messi pipped much-fancied rivals like Robert Lewandowski and Karim Benzema to take the award in a glittering ceremony.

Despite his tearful goodbye from Barcelona and his relatively underwhelming start to life in France, the jury of journalists across the world rewarded him in particular for captaining Argentina to their first major international title since 1993. "Two years ago I thought I was coming into my final years but here I am again back here," said Messi, who won the last edition of the Ballon d'Or in 2019. Last year's awards were cancelled. Messi won in 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012 and in 2015. "People were starting to ask me when I was going to retire but now I am here in Paris and I am very happy."

RACHIN LIVES UP TO HIS BILLING

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

RACHIN Ravindra defying India under fading light in Kanpur with assurance and confidence might have come as a surprise for many here in the country. But back home in New Zealand, especially at the High Performance Centre at Lincoln, to those, who stayed up until late at night to watch the world champions pull off a thrilling draw, witnessing Rachin safely taking Black Caps home was hardly a surprise.

The 22-year-old, who plays for Wellington Firebirds in domestic cricket, has been earmarked as a future star for over four years now. Son of Ravi Krishnamurthy, who played club-level cricket in Bengaluru and settled in Wellington, Ravindra is a product of New Zealand Cricket's (NZC) talent grooming system. Ahead of the 2016 Under-19 World Cup, Rachin who was struggling to make the cut in Wellington's age-group system was picked for the New Zealand U-19 side as they believed his left-arm orthodox will be useful in Bangladesh conditions.

"Even then, during the practice matches and in the tournament, Rachin showed what he is capable of as a batter," recalled Sriram Krishnamurthy, who has coached New Zealand U-19s, A team and was the batting coach of Northern Districts. "He was always a natural bowler, with an easy action. From there he continued his steady rise and even played in the 2018 Under-19 World Cup in New Zealand. So he has always been one of those bright talents to come out of New Zealand. Despite suffering a shoulder injury in 2017, the NZC handled his rehab and monitored his growth. That is the benefit of having a strong talent scouting system," Sriram said.

Playing in Wellington meant, chances were few and far between for Rachin. In fact, he made his first-class debut for New Zealand A even before he represented Wellington Firebirds in the four-day tournament. Though he didn't pick a wicket, he scored 70 & 27 against Pakistan A team in his debut first-class fixture in Dubai.

"Here it is quite tough. There are six teams that have only 15 players in the squad and in conditions where there is no room for spinners, it is extremely difficult to find a slot unless you are really good. And since he was based in Wellington, where Basin Reserve is amongst the most seamer-friendly pitches in the world, it is not easy to be a spinner. But then, he eventually made it on the back of A team performances," Sriram, who was batting coach for New Zealand A then, said.

With winter bringing cricket to almost a standstill in New Zealand, Rachin has had the opportunity to hone his skills in India too. For the past seven years, Rachin has been accompanying his father's Hatt Hawks Club to the southern part of India, where they play against local teams. Bengaluru, Anantpur, Chennai have all been his pit stops. "His father is his biggest support. Right through NZC set up, when you mention Rachin, everyone will vouch for his work ethic. He is amongst the most hard-working ones," he said.

'Interim stay' & twist in IOA polls

FLIP SIDE
INDRANEEL DAS

THE Indian Olympic Association (IOA) elections, slated to be held in Guwahati on December 19, has waded into choppy waters. The Delhi High Court ordered an interim stay on Tuesday. The matter was heard in response to an urgent petition filed by sports lawyer Rahul Mehra on Monday, requesting the court to intervene. The matter was initially listed for December 10.

Mehra confirmed that interim stay had been ordered and the matter has been listed for December 2. "Pursuant to an urgent hearing, special bench comprising HMJ Manmohan Singh & HMJ Wajiri after hearing me in my sports PIL as also counsel for UOI & IOA passed interim directions staying elections to the executive council of Indian Olympic Association," he tweeted.

According to Mehra's petition, the election on December 19 is "illegal and unsustainable, and ought not to be conducted pending hearing and final disposal of petition and various application..."

Mehra's petition has clubbed all the petitions filed since 2010. He has once again reiterated that IOA's constitution must be "in compliance with the letter and spirit of the Sports Code, not limited to age and tenure restrictions". And the elections be held as per the new constitution.

Mehra, in his petition, has requested the court to direct IOA to reschedule the elections and to conduct its elections only in its registered office at Delhi. He raised an objection saying that hosting the elections in Guwahati could lead to manipulation.

In regards to the Executive Council members, Mehra is seeking to bring it down to just 12. Right now there are about 30 EC members: one president, two senior vice presidents, nine VPs, one secretary general, six joint secretaries, one treasurer, 10 EC members. Another sticky point in the petition is adherence to mandatory cooling off period for office bearers as per sports code.

Though some members of the IOA feel it is an interim order and the final direction apropos fate of elections would be known on December 2, some feel it could lead to complications. The dates for filing nominations are December 2-4. According to some senior members, the court usually doesn't interfere once the election process starts. Since the interim stay has been ordered, some IOA members feel this could lead to postponement of the elections.

President Narinder Batra has been visiting a lot of states and national sports federation officials of late. In a lunch hosted by a senior official suppoorting him in New Delhi last week, it is understood some 45-50 senior IOA officials -- from NSFs and state units -- were present.

Another interesting point in Mehra's petition was in regards to eligibility of candidates who can contest elections. The petition urges the court to consider "that there are no restrictions to who may contest elections". The restrictive clause apparently would benefit secretary general Rajeev Mehta's camp.

Like one member pointed, his camp will have more choices now. IOA's rule 11.1.3. says, only members, who had held the office and were elected members in any of the preceding five Executive Council, shall be eligible to contest for posts of president and secretary general.

If there is a stay, the entire poll process would start again, starting witn amending the constitution. For now the IOA suspense continues.

Strength of Covid antibodies depends on age & sex: Study

COVID

A new study reveals your gender and age determines how strong antibody levels are after receiving two doses of the Pfizer-BioNTech coronavirus vaccine. The Texas Biomedical Research Institute, in collaboration with the University of Verona, Italy, found antibodies peak higher for women and children than men and individuals over the age of 65, the Daily Mail reported.

Study participants under the age of 65 were found to have more than twice the level of antibodies than those above the threshold.

However, the study, which is deemed to be the largest study in the world on the prevalence of antibodies over time, also showed levels dropped by 50 percent within six months for everyone – regardless of age or gender. Brandon Michael Henry, MD, a physician scientist and postdoctoral researcher at Texas Biomed who co-led the study, said in a statement: 'While we see how well vaccines have helped keep people out of the hospital and prevent life-threatening disease, antibody levels are quickly declining in all persons regardless of age and sex.

'Our study provides additional evidence that booster shots for all adults will be important to keep antibody levels up so we can continue to mount an effective immune response against Covid-19 infection and prevent Covid-19 fatalities.'

The findings are based on a group of 787 healthcare workers in Italy, ranging in ages 21 to 75, who received two doses of the vaccine. Researchers measured antibody levels in study subjects before vaccination, after the second dose and at one, three and six months after the second shot.

The team theorizes the difference shown among genders is due to hormones in the body – specifically testosterone in men. According to the press release, testosterone 'naturally suppresses the immune system, whereas estrogen, which is higher in women, is known to amplify immune responses.'

Also, some genes that code for certain immune proteins are on the X chromosome, and since women have two X chromosomes, this might help increase immune activity.

'Normally, only one X chromosome is active and the other is mostly deactivated, but there is evidence that immune-related genes stay active on that redundant chromosome and help boost immune responses in women,' Henry said.

Henry has also led systematic reviews that show similar results for age and gender.

He and colleagues developed a method to standardize research results for antibody levels, by looking at the percentage change in antibody levels, across 32 studies encompassing more than 5,000 people.

'We have observed throughout the pandemic more older people and men suffer the worst consequences of COVID-19,' Henry said.

'These studies point to weaker immune responses against SARS-CoV-2 as a contributing factor to this phenomenon.'

BUILDING BLOCKS OF A SOLAR PANEL

Sunlight is one of the safest sources of energy available to the world and harnessing it through solar panels is becoming increasingly popular. However, pricing remains a sore point. British scientists have developed an alternative to the seminal materials in a panel that brings down the production cost by a huge margin, but there's a catch. Let's find

VERY BRIEF HISTORY OF SOLAR CELLS

1839	Antoine-Cesar Becquerel discovers that exposing a chemical battery to the sun can produce voltage
1%	Efficiency of Becquerel method
1873	Willoughby Smith discovers selenium is sensitive to light
1877	Adams and Day note selenium, when exposed to light, produced an electrical current
1880s	Charles Fritts uses gold-coated selenium to make the first solar cell
1%	Efficiency of Fritts panels
1905	Albert Einstein explains the photoelectric effect: Metal absorbs energy from light and will retain that energy until too much light hits it

perovskite

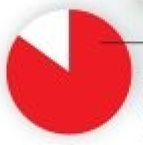
HOW IS IT MADE?

- The basic component of a solar cell is pure silicon, which is not pure in its natural state. Pure silicon is derived from such silicon dioxides as quartzite gravel (the purest silica) or crushed quartz
- The resulting pure silicon is then doped (treated with) with phosphorous and boron to produce an excess of electrons and a deficiency of electrons, respectively, to make a semiconductor capable of conducting electricity
- The silicon disks are shiny and require an anti-reflective coating, usually titanium dioxide. The protective material consists of an encapsulant of transparent silicon rubber or butyryl plastic (commonly used in automobile windshields) bonded around the cells, which are embedded in ethylene vinyl acetate

WHY IS IT DANGEROUS?

Perovskite contains lead. Solar cells made with the mineral are deemed toxic to the environment and a serious health hazard

While the solar energy-to-electricity conversion of perovskite is unbelievably high, if the solar panel fails, it can wash out into the soil, get into the food chain, and cause serious diseases

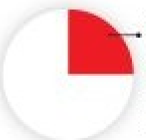


85% Of world solar panels are made of crystalline silicone

$2.50 Per square foot cost of silicon panels

15% Of world panels are made of perovskite

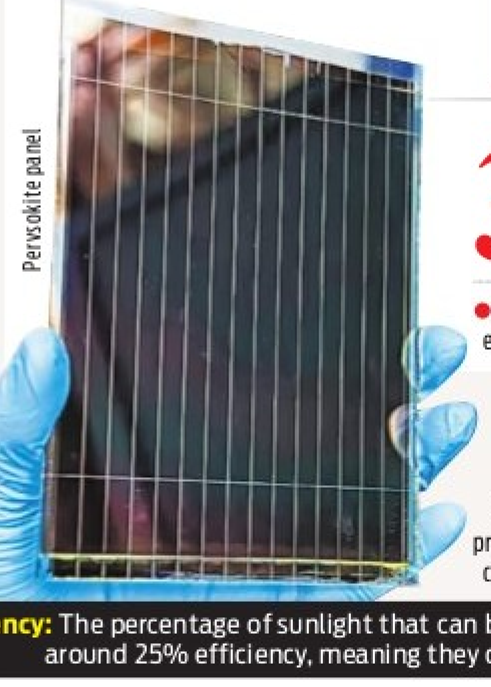
$0.25 Per square foot cost of the panels



25% Efficiency of both the cells

ENTER PEROVSKITE

- Perovskite is a term used to describe the mineral crystal structure found in the calcium titanium oxide mineral species, made of lead salts – and it was first used for solar cells in 2009
- A mineral made of lead salts is a promising material in creating low cost strong solar cells. It allows the panels to be 3D printed and last up to 25 years
- This material has shown excellent light absorption, charge-carrier mobilities and an increased lifetime of solar cells over the years, which provides opportunities to create low-cost, durable solar cells.



Pervsokite panel

NEW RESEARCH

3 Components organised in a specific structure make perovskite

1 Of the components is halides (iodine and bromine)

- 'This chemical disorder creates energetic hills and valleys for electrons in these disordered materials
- Changing the ratio of iodine to bromine changes the energy the electrons keep when they absorb sunlight
- The findings will allow further refinement of perovskite solar cells

1954	Bell Lab scientists produce a silicon solar cell of 4% efficiency
15%	Efficiency of panel when first used in the rural Americus in the US to power a telephone relay system
25-30%	Efficiency of modern day panels

<1% Of global energy needs is met by solar energy

Efficiency: The percentage of sunlight that can be converted into electricity. Most modern day panels have around 25% efficiency, meaning they can convert only 25% of sunlight into electricity

TELESCOPE

James Webb getting primed for takeoff

SPACE

The James Webb Space Telescope has started fuelling ahead of its long-awaited lift-off on December 22, NASA has revealed. The $10 billion telescope, jointly developed by NASA, the European Space Agency, and the Canadian Space Agency, is finally 'ready for flight' after 25 years in the making. Fuelling operations began on November 25, NASA said, and will take about 10 days, lasting to December 5.

Experts have cleared the telescope for any possible damage following an incident at its spaceport in French Guiana last week. When it eventually blasts off into space from the Guiana Space Centre, James Webb will study the history of exoplanets and the origins of the universe's first stars.

James Webb is due to launch on December 22 on an Arianespace Ariane 5 rocket from Kourou, a town in French Guiana, South America, the location of Guiana Space Centre. It was previously scheduled to launch on December 18, but 'a recent incident' during launch preparations pushed this back by four days. Numerous other delays have plagued the telescope's construction and testing history.

'Engineering teams have completed additional testing confirming NASA's James Webb Space Telescope is ready for flight,' NASA said in an update. 'Launch preparations are resuming toward Webb's target launch date of Wednesday, Dec. 22, at 7:20am EST.'

After rectification works and a string of checks, a 'consent to fuel' review was held recently, following which NASA gave approval to begin fueling the observatory.

Existing vax can't take on omicron: moderna boss

VACCINE

LONDON: Existing Covid-19 inoculations will struggle against the fast-spreading Omicron variant, the head of vaccine manufacturer Moderna warned Tuesday, as countries ramp up vaccination programmes and impose further restrictions.

First reported to the World Health Organization in South Africa less than a week ago, the new strain has rapidly spread from Africa to the Pacific, and from Europe to North America as dozens of countries have announced travel restrictions. Stephane Bancel, the head of Moderna, told the Financial Times in an interview published Tuesday that data would be available on the effectiveness of vaccines in the two weeks' time, but that scientists were pessimistic.

"All the scientists I've talked to are like this is not going to be good," Bancel said, warning against a material drop in the effectiveness of current jabs. Moderna, US drugmaker Pfizer and the backers of Russian vaccine Sputnik V have all announced that they are already working on an Omicron-specific vaccine. China warned that the fast-spreading Omicron variant would cause challenges in hosting next February's Winter Olympics in Beijing, with thousands of athletes, media and participants arriving from overseas required to enter a strict "closed-loop" bubble.

"I think it will definitely lead to challenges linked to prevention and control," foreign ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian said. "But China has a lot of experience in responding to Covid-19," Zhao added. "I firmly believe the Winter Olympics will be conducted smoothly."

On Monday, US President Joe Biden said the strain was "a cause for concern, not a cause for panic," stressing that he does not foresee new lockdowns or extending travel restrictions for now. G7 health ministers called for "urgent action" to combat the Omicron variant.

The WHO said the overall risk from Omicron was "very high" and warned that any major surge would put pressure on health systems and cause more deaths.

EU says jabs may get nod in 3-4 months

COVID

BRUSSELS: Vaccines specially adapted for the new Omicron variant could be approved in three to four months if they are needed, the head of the EU's drug regulator said on Tuesday.

The decision on whether new shots are required would, however, have to be made by other bodies, European Medicines Agency Executive Director Emer Cooke said. "Were there a need to change the existing vaccines, we could be in a position to have those approved within three to four months," Cooke told a European Parliament committee. Her comments come after the head of US vaccine maker Moderna was quoted as saying that existing jabs will struggle against the heavily mutated Omicron.

Putin calls for countries to coordinate in fight

Russia President Vladimir Putin on Tuesday called for mutual recognition of vaccines against the coronavirus to help curtail the pandemic. Speaking at a Russian investment forum, Putin said that countries can "effectively battle" the coronavirus only by coordinating their actions. "In the coming weeks, it will become clear how serious the consequences are. But we need to be prepared for any change in the virus," he said

China casts shadow of doubt on Winter Games

China warned the Omicron variant would cause challenges in hosting next February's Winter Olympics in Beijing, which has a stringent zero-Covid policy in place. "I think it will lead to challenges linked to prevention and control," foreign ministry spokesman Zhao Lijian said, adding that Beijing "appreciates the efforts by South Africa in offering timely information" on the variant.

Greece makes jabs mandatory for 60+

Greece's Prime Minister Kyriakos Mitsotakis said coronavirus vaccines would be compulsory for over 60s, as he faces mounting calls for more restrictions to stem the spread of Covid-19. "Greeks over the age of 60... must book their appointment for a first jab by January 16," the premier said in a statement to the cabinet. "Their vaccination is henceforth compulsory," he added

Markets tumble, oil slides amid doubts on vaccines' potency

ECONOMY

LONDON: World stocks slid on Tuesday after Moderna warned current vaccines might be less effective at fending off the Omicron variant. Frankfurt, London and Paris followed Asia sharply lower, with sentiment dogged by fears of fresh economic fallout from the long-running Covid crisis.

Oil prices took a tumble following the Moderna remarks, which have reignited stubborn concerns over energy demand. Brent crude futures fell $2.76, or 3.76%, to $70.68 a barrel after slipping to an intraday low of $70.22, their lowest since late August.

The markets selloff accelerated as data showed eurozone inflation rocketed on runaway energy prices to a record 4.9%. US Federal Reserve boss Jerome Powell warned the latest emergency posed "downside risks to employment and economic activity, and increased uncertainty for inflation".

In prepared comments ahead of an appearance in front of the Senate Banking Committee later on Tuesday, he also said the virus could "intensify supply-chain disruptions" that have been a major cause of the inflation spike this year.

OPEC+ meeting

OPEC and the oil cartel's allies hold a key output meeting on Thursday facing new challenges as the Omicron coronavirus variant has roiled markets and other US-led nations decided to tap their strategic reserves.

The OPEC+ alliance has resisted US-led pressure to step up production to bring down surging energy prices, and the emergence of the new variant has complicated the equation.

The meeting "is shaping up to be one of the most significant since the pandemic demand recovery began, and the key signal will be how much more oil will be added to supply to start the new year," said Peter McNally, an analyst at the Third Bridge think tank.

Carsten Fritsch of Commerzbank said "there is much to suggest that OPEC+ will not initially step up its oil production any further" in an effort to maintain current prices at around $70 a barrel.

Russian Deputy Prime Minister Alexander Novak, the Kremlin's oil pointman, had warned on Monday against any "hasty decisions", according to Russian news agencies.

'I HAD BACK-TO-BACK PROJECTS DURING LOCKDOWN'

...says Bollywood singer Benny Dayal, who will be performing in Bengaluru for the first time since the pandemic

ANILA KURIAN

IF you're a fan of songs like Pappu Can't Dance from Jaane Tu... Ya Jaane Na, Locha-e-Ulfat from 2 States, or the title song of Hrithik Roshan-starrer Bang Bang, then get ready to put on your dancing shoes. The singer, Benny Dayal, of these popular Bollywood songs is coming to Bengaluru soon.

It's extra special because this will be Dayal's first public performance after the pandemic hit in 2020. Organised by Envision and SteppinOut by Dineout, the event is at UB City on December 18. "Bengaluru has always been a special place and I love the audience here. I keep visiting Bengaluru quite often as my brother and sister-in-law stay here. But if you ask me what my favourite places are to hang out, I don't have any," he says with a laugh. Speaking to us from Mumbai, he says, "I'm a homebody. So, even when I come there, it's usually for work or to spend time with my family at home."

The singer is known not just his for Bollywood songs but also for his voice which he has lent to numerous films in Tamil, Telugu, Malayalam, Kannada, Bengali, Gujarati and Marathi works. He recently sang Olavaagidhe from Ninna Sanihake, composed by Raghu Dixit. "I also sang Vaada Machaney for the OTT release Meenakshi Sundareshwar," says the singer.

But he has been busy since the pandemic, working out of his home studio in Mumbai, hosting various virtual concerts. "There wasn't too much time for anything else. I kept working and there were back-to-back projects taking place. So it didn't feel like work had slowed down at all," Dayal explains.

The pandemic allowed him to spend time at home with his wife, Catherine Dayal, making Instagram reels. Be it short fashion videos, dance videos or partaking in trends, the couple continued to make some fun content for their followers.

When we ask him about his upcoming projects, Dayal keeps mum. "The most I can say right now is that I've been working and there are a lot of individual projects happening along with film projects," he says, adding, "Right now, I'm just working on these and looking forward to the New Year. And no, my only resolution for New Year is not to make one."

KNOW YOUR CITY

Arun Prasad, city-based history researcher, unravels interesting facts about Bengaluru in this weekly quiz series. So it's time for you to find out how familiar you are with the city, beyond its heritage buildings, IT parks and the pub culture.

THE QUIZ WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Send answers to bengalurucityexpress@gmail.com with the subject line 'Know Your City Quiz'

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE on Thursday.

1. 'Lake City' would have been another sobriquet of Bengaluru if all the 260-odd lakes survived in the city. Most of them have vanished in the last few decades due to rapid and unbridled urbanisation with just a few remaining and struggling for existence. Following the directive from the High Court, the Karnataka Government has set up LDA (2002) and replaced it with KLCDA (2016), an authority to protect and rejuvenate the existing lakes in the city. Expand LDA and KLCDA.
2. Bengaluru's heritage structures have been facing a constant threat. To safeguard the city's aesthetics and its built heritage, the Bangalore Urban Art Commission (BUAC) was established in 1976. Does the commission exist today?
3. Bengaluru is fondly called by many names. Pick one of these names that do not belong to Bengaluru, Garden City, Scotland of India, Pensioners Paradise, Silicon Valley of India, Pub City.

Opening their doors after the lockdown, Reves Art Gallery is hosting the first physical exhibition where works of popular artists SG Vasudev, Vinod Daroz, Rekha Hebbar Rao, Raghava KK are on display

WHOLEHEARTED EFFORT

MONIKA MONALISA

AN art gallery without its art display is as good as a stage without actors. Thrilled to welcome back the art lovers, Reves Art Gallery is hosting their first physical exhibition — Soliloquies — after more than a year. The show, which continues till Dec 13, displays the work of an array of artists, including SG Vasudev, Vinod Daroz, Rekha Hebbal Rao, Raghava KK , Kalyan S Rathore to name a few. The show was inaugurated by DG & IGP, Karnataka State Police, on Monday and saw city-based celebrities, Prasad Bidappa, Madhu Natraj, Anupama Hoskote, in attendance.

Rajini Rekha, artist and art curator of the exhibition, believes that the natural habitat of an artwork is a gallery where people can view and purchase them. Since it's been more than a year that the gallery has been shut, she feels this is the best way to reset. Interestingly, the show is based on how one seeks inspiration while constrained indoors. "In about August 2020, when the lockdown was relaxed a bit, I rushed to a stationery store to stock up my supplies, but then I realised this could be the case with all the artists. It is probably art that keeps an artist going which gave me the idea of having a virtual art camp," says Rekha.

Speaking about her experience during the lockdown, Rekha says it's art that gives her different perspectives. "To me, practising art fuels my passion. I got to experiment with a lot of concepts during the lockdown. I worked on two artworks during the camp and have used the Dragonfly— symbolising the transition," explains Rekha.

One of the contributors to the exhibition, artist Rekha Hebbar Rao says her art work encompasses the exterior landscape, spiritual and phenomenological understanding. "Living in isolation, I have realised the importance of a balanced environment. Being invited to participate in a virtual art camp was a fine experience. I was able to interact with fellow artists and know how they dealt with isolation and the effect of creativity," says Rao.

Not just city-based artists, the show also exhibits works from artists across the country. Baroda-based artist Vinod Daroz, who is known for his designs on ceramic says, his work Samudramanthan, which is displayed at the exhibition, symbolises 'creation'.

"The body of work uses mundane forms rooted in the Indian tradition. A pestle and mortar are found in many traditional Indian households. It's a tool used to prepare food for sustenance. The work uses the form of a pestle as a symbol of creation," explains Daroz, who has been practising ceramic work since past 20 years.

(Soliloquies will be held at Reves Art Gallery, Jayanagar, till Dec 13)

MIRCHI CHHENA BADA

INGREDIENTS

- Chhena: 500g
- Mustard oil
- Rajasthani mirchi/banana peppers: 4
- Coriander leaves: 1.5 tsp
- Aamchur, dhaniya powder: 1/2 tsp each
- Chaat masala: 1/4 tsp
- Salt to taste
- Besan: 100g
- Kashmiri red chilli powder: 1/2 tsp
- Ajwain: 1/2 tsp
- 1 tsp black pepper
- Cumin powder: 1 tsp
- Potatoes: 2 medium boiled, mashed

METHOD

- Wash, slit and deseed the peppers.
- Mix the chhena with everything except besan, ajwain, and oil, until well combined. Fill each pepper with this mixture.
- Make a dry batter (just besan) and wet batter (besan powder, crushed whole ajwain, Kashmiri red chilli powder, water). Coat stuffed peppers in the dry batter, then the wet batter.
- Deep fry in mustard oil till golden brown. Serve with a jaggery-imli chutney.

FIT BIT

PARSVA SUKHASANA

(SEATED SIDE BEND POSE)

This side bend pose works with the hip flexors, shoulders, arms, rhomboids and oblique muscles. It is a basic level Hatha Yoga pose which stretches your knees, ankles and strengthens your back. This pose can be done by all age groups. This basic asana is best for beginners to start their yoga sessions. While opening hips and lengthening the spine, the asana's relative ease on the knees makes it easier than Siddhasana or Padmasana. Practicing this asana regularly to beat stress. This asana helps to keep you physically and mentally very effective.

STEPS

- Sit on the floor; keep your back perpendicular to the ground.
- Cross your legs by bringing the foot behind the thigh of the opposite leg.
- Get comfortable in the pose. Your feet shouldn't hold any stress.
- Keep your shoulders, neck, spine, and head erect. Place your palms over the knees, either facing up or down.
- Inhale, stretch your arms above your head, and place your left palm on the ground slightly next to your hips.
- Exhale, lean towards the left side, stretch your right arm over your ears and bring your chin to your shoulders.
- Inhale, take your right arm back to the centre. Exhale and bring both palms back onto your knees.
- After that, repeat the procedure to your other side.
- You can practise this pose on both sides 3-4 times, or according to your convenience.
- Finally, come to a relaxed position.

BENEFITS

- It stretches and lengthens the spine.
- Helps improve posture.
- Increases the flexibility of spine and upper back.
- Broadens collarbones and chest. Calms the mind and opens the hips.
- Improves peacefulness and serenity.
- Reduces anxiety, stress and mental tiredness.
- Reduces fatigue.
- Strengthens the back and massages the abdominal muscles.
- Helps stretch ankles and knees.
- Gives a gentle massage to knees, calf muscles and thighs.
- Very useful as a warm-up pose.

LIMITATIONS

- It should be avoided, in case of knee injury, sciatica and sacral ailments.
- It must not be practiced in case of a slipped disc.

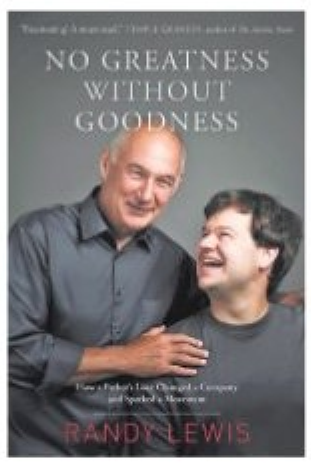
Special tale

FLYLEAF

VR FEROSE

(The author is a technologist based in Silicon Valley who is gently mad about books)

If you are a columnist writing about other people's books, do you have permission to write about your own? Personally, I would say a loud 'No'. But for once, let me infringe on this unwritten boundary and share the books that inspired me to write my book, co-authored with C K Meena, The Invisible Majority: India's Abled Disabled. Here are some of the books that helped me formulate my ideas about disability.



Among Indian authors, I came across Arun Shourie's Does He Know a Mother's Heart? Through his personal journey with his son who was born with cerebral palsy, Shourie introspects on suffering and critiques religion. I read memoirs by PwDs such as Malini Chib's One little Finger and Siddharth Jayakumar's Simply Being Sidds. In fiction, there was TGC Prasad's From the Eye of My Mind in which the protagonist is a teenager with autism.

However, most of the books I read were by authors from the US, a country that is at least half a century ahead of us in providing an inclusive environment for persons with disabilities (PwDs). At the top of the list is Andrew Solomon's Far from the Tree, a 10-year labour of love which involved Solomon going deep into the lives of families of children with disabilities. This thoroughly researched, sensitively and brilliantly written book has been made into an equally noteworthy film. I decided to try something similar though on a lesser scale in the Indian context by capturing the life stories of PwDs and their caregivers.

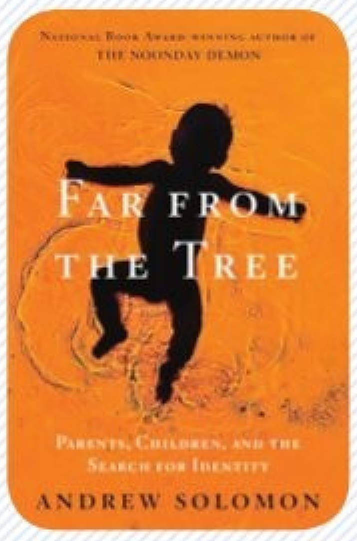
No Greatness Without Goodness by Randy Lewis struck an obvious chord in me since I too, like Lewis, have a son with autism, and like him, I belong to the corporate world. Lewis, who used to be the VP of one of the fastest growing retailers in the US, went about building an inclusive workspace which became a model for other companies.

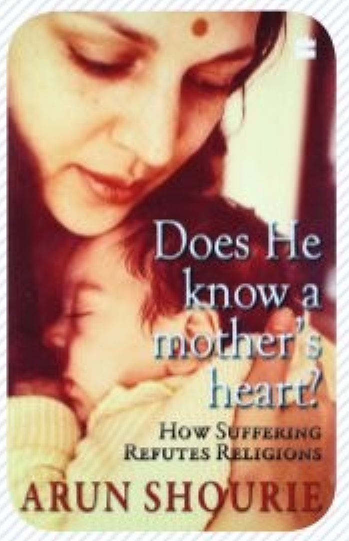
I read all the books written by Temple Grandin, a renowned professor with autism and the subject of a TV biopic. Joseph Shapiro's No Pity gave me an overview of disability in the US. It led me to some key topics that I picked for my book: the status of disability policy and law in India and the progress of our own disability rights movement.

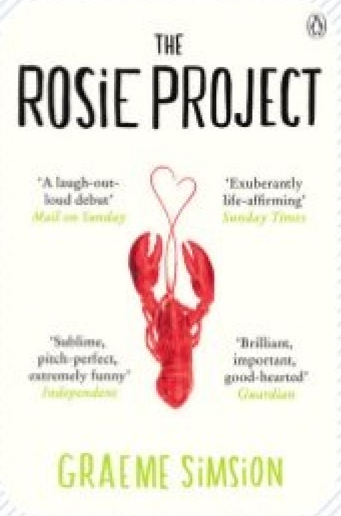
About Us is a compilation of New York Times essays that were part of the newspaper's disability series. Written in first person, they reveal the lives of persons with different disabilities as they negotiate a world that is not made for them. The title, incidentally, reflects the slogan of the global disability movement, "Nothing about us without us". I knew that mainstream Indian media would hesitate to carry such a series but at least my book could reflect the voices of PwDs and record their intimate stories.

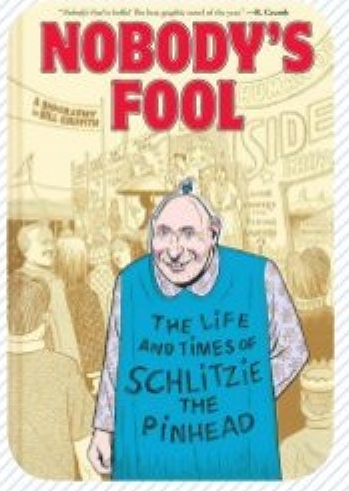
While preparing to write The Invisible Majority, I also read novels with a disability theme. The graphic novel Nobody's Fool by Bill Griffith is an eye-opening true-life story of Schlitzie, a man with intellectual disabilities who was displayed as a 'circus freak'. In an entirely different vein, The Rosie Project by Australian Graeme Simsion is a hilarious romance where the protagonist is a scientist who appears to have Asperger's Syndrome. The working of a mind that is wired differently actually creates material for humour!

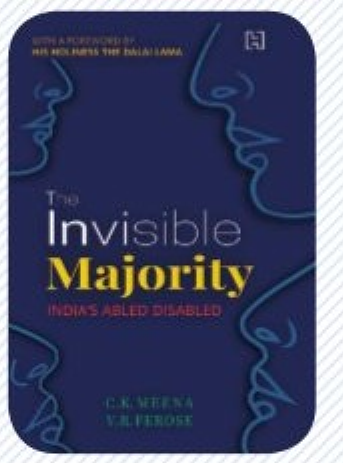
These books revealed the manifold shapes, sizes and colours of a subject close to my heart and inspired me to bring it close to home through my book on disability in India.







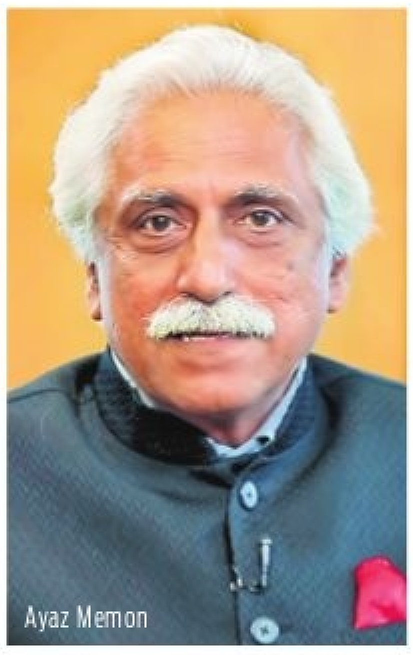




'IPL IS AN ATTEMPT TO GLAMOURISE CRICKET INTO MASS ENTERTAINMENT'

TURNING PAGES

April 18, 2008



Ayaz Memon

I have never seen anything like this. The M. Chinnaswamy Stadium in Bengaluru is packed to the rafters to witness the inaugural match of a tournament previously restricted to the fantasies of cricket's legions of followers. The decade-long flirtations between India's favourite sport and Bollywood have been consummated. The most excited fan in the arena is Shah Rukh Khan, co-owner of the Kolkata Knight Riders (KKR), who are taking on the Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB), the team belonging to India's foremost liquor baron, Vijay Mallya. A mesmerising medley of India's finest has converged to kick-start what seems to be a sporting revolution, complete with the requisite rapture and razzmatazz. The Indian Premier League, a franchise-based T20 tournament, has created a dizzy of anticipation for months, and the time has finally arrived to unleash cricket's latest creature.

A NOVEL SPECTACLE

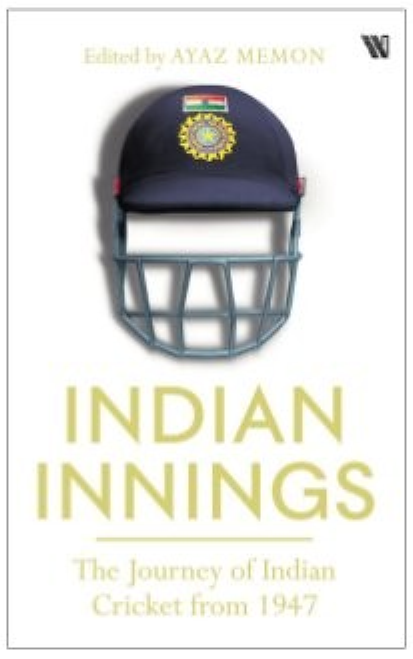
Stilt walkers glide around the ground like colossal butterflies as enormous cables connect the stadium's roof to the playing square. I am tempted to burst the giant bubble in the centre of the field filling my television screen, but my whim gives way to wonder at the marvellous feats of the acrobats on display. BCCI President Sharad Pawar calls it a 'historic day', while his deputy and the mastermind behind the magic, Lalit Modi (also the IPL chairman), declares the tournament open. The Chinnaswamy erupts as the eight captains of the eight IPL teams are paraded, before pledging their allegiance to MCC's Spirit of Cricket declaration.

The ICC World T20 last year gave us an idea of what to expect from the best in the game slugging it out for a few weeks in the shortest format of cricket, but the IPL is not just an aggregation of leading cricketers, it is an attempt to glamourise cricket into mass entertainment on a scale never attempted before.

I am staring at the screen with awe, incredulous at the intricacy on show. The two skippers for the first match, Rahul Dravid and Sourav Ganguly, march out to the glare of a spotlight, with the rest of the setting enveloped in darkness. India's pair of veterans has been part of several spectacular partnerships, but their walk to the pitch for the toss is a sight unlike any other. Amidst the entrancing environment, Dravid calls correctly and RCB opt to bowl first.

THE BRENDON BLITZKRIEG

Ganguly is accompanied by the big-hitting Brendon McCullum as the Knight Riders get their innings underway. In their trailblazing colours of red and yellow, the home team start stronger, with Praveen Kumar troubling McCullum in the very first over. At the other end, however, it is a different story, with Zaheer Khan struggling to contain the New Zealander, as McCullum lets loose. Two fours are followed by the first six in IPL history, a streaky top-edge that squirts over third man and clears the fence. With his trademark baseball batswing, McCullum is going all guns blazing, as KKR bring up 50 runs inside the first four overs.



A spate of boundaries from McCullum — who is stroking the ball with reckless ease — is piling on the misery for a clueless RCB attack, with the fielders doing little to help the bowlers' morale through a series of misfields. Amidst the swashbuckling pulls and slaps off McCullum's blade, there is the occasional caress from Ganguly, reminding viewers that classical grace is not extinct in this new age of muscle play. But Dada's stay is shortlived, his edge off Zaheer finds the bucket-esque hands of Jacques Kallis, and RCB have a much-needed first breakthrough. The departure of his opening partner does little to arrest McCullum's momentum, who is now joined by Ricky Ponting, and continues to tee off in all directions, tearing into the slow left-armers of Sunil Joshi. At the end of 10 overs, KKR are placed comfortably at 87 for one.

Book on VP Singh's political journey

Debashish Mukerji's The Disruptor, published by Harper Collins, is a detailed account of former Prime Minister of India VP Singh's life, told in the context of his times. The book recalls his works on implementing the recommendations of the Mandal Commission report, which provided reservations in Central government services for the first time to the Other Backward Classes. The book also chronicles the raids on the biggest business houses of his time when he was Finance Minister; the investigation into the defence deals as Defence Minister (which cost him his job); bringing together a divided opposition to form an unlikely coalition government at the Centre comprising the BJP and the Communist parties and many more instances. —IANS

Pankaj Dubey to adapt his book into a film

Author Pankaj Dubey is excited as his book One String Attached and his recent stint as director of the film Maratha Mandir Cinema, which is a tribute to the iconic Dilwale Dulhania Le Jaayenge, is doing well. Maratha Mandir Cinema was Dubey's debut as a filmmaker.

About One String Attached being adapted as a film in the near future, Dubey says, "It is about that unrequited love in everyone's life which leaves a vacuum somewhere. At some level, I am happy to position this as a love story of the subaltern. It's the love story of a tailor and his quest for his long lost love. I feel grateful to all my readers for the immense love they are showing. Besides, the plot has intrigued some studios and production houses who are keen to adapt this for the big screen." Dubey's book What A Loser!, which will also be adapted into a film, will be directed by him.

Inspired by the ideologies of AMU alumnus Zakir Hussain, who was alos the former President of India, the book delves into how the university participated in various walks of national life that determined the place of Muslims in India's national life. It also throws light on how the university helped prepare a community, who were earlier devastated in the aftermath of the Revolt of 1857.

FIXING THE STANDUP COMEDY PROBLEM IN INDIA

URBAN BOURBON

Hriday Ranjan

Writer, comedian

Vir Das

Munawar Faruqui

Last week witnessed two incidents of standup comedians featuring in the news. Vir Das' poem on 2 Indias united the nation in outrage — proving that we are after all one India. And Munawar Faruqui announced his decision to quit standup comedy after death threats and vandalism. He had even acquired a 'censor' certificate and promised to donate the money to charity. But it wasn't enough, as someone had already taken offence.

Taking offence is our favourite pastime. Italians make pizzas; Brazilians play soccer. We take offence. If there was a World Cup for taking offence, we would be the undefeated champions of the world. While politicians make inane statements week after week, standup comedians are held up to Aristotelian standards of morality, even if their job is to crack jokes. It doesn't help that standup comedians are powerless. Standup comedy is a new field, and comics are youngsters without political or economic clout. We vote for politicians, but expect standup comedians to uphold morality and decency.

As a comedian, I know that three topics make us uncomfortable — sex, religion and politics — the unholty triumvurate of Indian comedy. For someone like Yours Truly — whose jokes mostly revolve around these topics — there are no corporate or college shows offered. Which means we mostly have to perform in bars, where the only time we get to hear claps is when drunk uncles call the waiters to order for more beer!

But I am a journalist too, and have a radical proposal to solve India's problems with standup comedians. Let's address the icky subject of sex first. Sex is a taboo subject in India, right from the generation when two flowers feverishly touched each other to depict sexual intercourse. Sex education in schools is a touchy topic too. When we were studying, the onus of explaining about the birds and the bees fell on the poor Biology teacher. We were warned in advance that anybody caught smiling or asking questions would be asked to leave the class. The entire chapter was taught to us in pin-drop silence. To an external observer, it might have seemed like we were mourning the untimely death of Sigmund Freud! I recommend that standup comedians teach sex education in schools. It will give the kids someone they can relate to, and they can ask their doubts without worrying about life insurance.

Which then brings us to religion. Politicians and social media trolls abuse each other on the basis of religion regularly. I recommend that this be institutionalised. Let standup comedians get on a platform and crack jokes on each other's religions openly. There will be no more whataboutery, and it will be truly democratic.

As for political jokes, the most famous politicians in India are known to have a sense of humour. They roast each other in rallies, as well as in the Parliament. Right now, standup comedians have to write their jokes, test them in open mics, take them to paid shows, and eventually to a special on Netflix or Amazon Prime Video. Instead, let standup comedians write political jokes for Panchayat elections, then take the jokes to the Assembly elections, followed by a special in the Parliament that will be streamed on the Lok Sabha channel. Not only will this solve India's problem with standup comedy, it will also be great service to the art form in general. I dare say it will also help deal with India's burgeoning unemployment problem too!

Sincerely, an unemployed standup comedian!

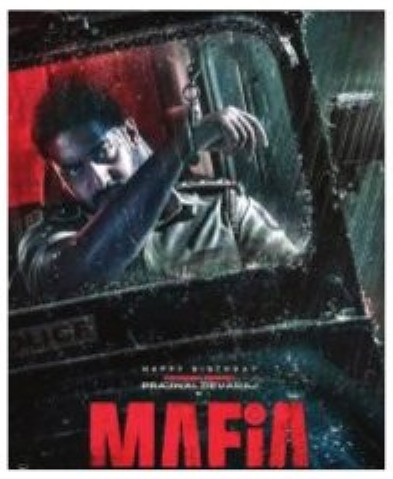
Lohith H, Prajwal Devaraj, and B Kumar

Mafia to be launched on December 2

CE FEATURES

MAFIA, Prajwal Devaraj’s upcoming film with Lohith H, is set to be launched on December 2. Backed by B Kumar’s Bangalore Kumar Films banner, the shooting of the film will begin on December 6. Since Prajwal is playing a cop in H Lohith’s mass entertainer, the actor has decided to finally bid adieu to his long hairstyle, which he had maintained for years. The actor has decided to donate the hair to cancer patients.



Mafia marks Aditi Prabhudeva’s first collaboration with Lohith. The film revolves around the theme of human trafficking, and stars senior actor Devaraj in a pivotal role. The film will have Anoop Seelin scoring music and Jebin Jackob handling the camera work. Meanwhile, Prajwal is waiting for the release of Lucky Shankar’s Arjun Gowda.

Laka Laka Lamborghini marks Rachita Ram’s first solo music video

Rachita Ram and Chandan Shetty

CE FEATURES

RACHITA Ram, one of the busiest Sandalwood actors with a handful of films, is set to make her solo music video debut. Titled Laka Laka Lamborghini, the song directed by Pogaru-fame Nanda Kishore has Dimple Queen joining hands with rapper and music director Chandan Shetty. The latter, who has penned the lyrics, has composed and sung the song. The track also has him sharing screen space with Rachita Ram.

Shooting of the music video, backed by producer Keshav, was wrapped up recently, and Chandan Shetty reveals that it is the most expensive music album in his career. “Unlike my previous albums, which are usually shot in location, this is the first time we created the track in 3 huge sets. This is a glamorous song choreographed by Murali Master, and a lot of details have gone into the costumes, which were designed by Roshan Aiyappa, Shilpa Hegde, and Varshini Janakiram,” says Chandan Shetty, who shared the first few stills from the musical album. “Tentatively, we plan to release the song around Christmas,” he says. Rachita Ram, who was last seen in Ramesh Aravind’s 100, has an interesting lineup of films, including Darshan-starrer Kranti directed by V Harikrishna.

Baang makers unveil film’s first look and teaser

CE FEATURES

THE shoot of Sri Ganesh Parasuram’s upcoming dark comedy action thriller, Baang, was wrapped up recently. The makers unveiled the film’s first look and teaser on Monday. The Kannada-Telugu bilingual film brings together a host of actors including Shanvi Srivastava, Ritvik Muralidhar, Saathwika, Natya Ranga, Sunil Gujjar. The project also marks music composer Raghu Dixit’s acting debut. Currently in post-production, Baang is expected to be released next year in February or March.

This project is Pooja Vasant Kumar’s third production after the Yogi-starrer Naanu adu Mattu Saroja and Aditi Prabhudeva’s Aana. While Ritvik Muralidhar is the composer, Uday Leela is onboard Baang as its cinematographer.

RENDEZVOUS IN RACCOON CITY

Actors Tom Hopper and Avan Jogia share the experience of being a part of the upcoming zombie-horror film, Resident Evil: Welcome to Raccoon City

RAM VENKAT SRIKAR

IT’S only while talking to Tom Hopper and Avan Jogia that I realise how vast the Resident Evil franchise has become over the past two decades. The Milla Jovovich-led action horror film, Resident Evil, inspired by a Japanese video game of the same name, was released in 2002, and has since spawned six feature film installments, with the seventh title, Resident Evil: Welcome to Raccoon City, on the way. The films prevail independently, while the video games continue to enjoy a separate, devoted fan base. Both Tom and Avan are quite inclined towards the games as well. “I am a fan of the early games, but I’m not well-versed with the recent ones. As someone who grew up with the first few titles, it’s amazing how much the graphics have improved ever since I played them as a kid,” he notes. “The new games are scarier as well. When I was approached for the film, I remember seeing only the first and second film. My experience and association have been more with the games,” The Umbrella Academy actor adds.

Avan hops in to share his memories associated with the franchise. “I have so many childhood memories attached to Resident Evil 4, the game. I’m a fan…” he takes a brief pause, before making a statement that encapsulates the evolution of the franchise. “The best thing about being a Resident Evil fan is, there are multiple eras to be closely associated with. The late 90s games, the late 2000s games, so on and so forth,” he adds.

Avan is no stranger to zombie films; he played Berkeley, a pacifist who refuses to turn to violence even in an apocalyptic world where death is imminent. In Raccoon City though, the tables have been turned. Avan reprises the franchise’s fan-favourite rookie police officer, Leon S Kennedy, and he’s a part of several gory sequences. How does it feel to be on the set of a zombie film? “Well, it involves a lot of blood and guts, and if you are lucky, you don’t get drenched in it (laughs). That would mean you have to sit in the make-up room getting the zombie blood applied over your face and hair,” he says. “I guess filmmakers want me to kill zombies. I have picked up a few tricks to survive in a zombie film as well; headshots are the key, but you shouldn’t use guns excessively. They are too loud and tend to draw attention; as far as zombie survival is concerned, you are much safer with something wild, a Kitano, perhaps.”

Tom, on the other hand, will be stepping into the shoes of Albert Wesker, one of the major antagonists in the Resident Evil universe, earlier essayed by multiple actors including Shawn Roberts and Jason O’Mara. Tom, who will be essaying the younger version of the character, however, admits he eschewed seeking inspiration from the actors who played the part in previous installments. Speaking of his approach to the character, Hoppe shares, “I never looked at other iterations of the character. My focus has always been on Johannes Roberts’ (writer and director) vision, and my job was to embody the new version presented on the page. The script is so raw and the characters, equally human and relatable. I aimed to encapsulate that essence. I’m aware that there are different versions of the character from games and films; there’s one that’s similar to Mr Smith from The Matrix, and my idea was to go against this version and break it. I wanted to make him more relatable. My performance had to be more than just mannerisms; you could easily fall for the trap of sounding like an artificial, dark villain. I tried to explore his villainous transformation through actions while sticking to the story.”

If both of them had to convince a person alien to the Resident Evil universe to watch Welcome to Raccoon City, how would they pitch it? Tom quickly hops in, “What 2020 could have been!”

“I can’t top that,” Avan adds, laughing.

Tom Holland to return for another Spider-Man trilogy in MCU

CE FEATURES

SPIDER-Man: No Way Home was set to wrap up the current trilogy of Marvel Cinematic Universe Spider-Man movies soon. But Sony producer Amy Pascal has confirmed that Tom Holland’s friendly neighbourhood superhero will return for a future trilogy of Spider-Man movies set in the MCU.

Though it may feel that the upcoming trilogy is an obvious decision the unique licensing deals around the character are quite complicated. That’s because, the rights to Spider-Man and his associated villains, allies, and side characters aren’t owned by Disney, but by Sony. It may be noted that the recent Venom-Let There Be Carnage, had a cameo of Tom Holland’s Spider-Man, hinting at a possible collaboration in the future.
